

CONTROL OF THE COMFORT STATION

Fixed by Vote of the Municipal Council—Ald. Brown Opposed to Mayor's Control of Station

An adjourned meeting of the municipal council was held this forenoon at city hall with all members present but Commissioner Barrett, who is very busy on the big job of laying the 24 inch water main across the Merrimack river. Mayor O'Donnell called the meeting to order at 11:25 o'clock and a list of routine business was put through.

Commissioner Brown objected to the passing of the ordinance with reference to the care of the comfort station, but without his vote the same was accepted. An order for a $3000

PAUL E. BURNHAM OF THIS CITY

Says There is Nothing to Prevent Recurrence of Dayton Flood

PAUL E. BURNHAM

Paul E. Burnham, assistant engineer for the P. R. R. at Logansport, Ind., is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Burnham, 40 Victoria street. Speaking of the flood that swept through portions of Ohio, Pennsylvania and Indiana, several months ago, and known as the Dayton flood, Mr. Burnham said that business in Logansport, where the P. R. R. alone suffered a loss of $75,000 in buildings, tracks and equipment, has resumed almost normal conditions. Two or three bridges that were carried away by the flood have not yet been rebuilt, but are well under way. Asked if such a catastrophe might repeat itself, Mr. Burnham said: "I cannot see anything to prevent a recurrence of the flood. The bridge across the Wabash river is being supplied with three piers and it is generally conceded that two would have sufficed. The centre pier should have been eliminated and the bridge should have been raised; several feet in order to admit of the great volume of water in the flood season." Mr. Burnham will leave for Logansport tomorrow.

Logansport suffered very severely from the flood and the readers of The Sun will probably recall a letter that Paul E. Burnham sent to his father when the flood was at its height and bridges and buildings were being swept away, as the letter was published in these columns.

Mr. Burnham had a great many experiences that he would not care to have repeated. He assisted in many thrilling rescues and with hundreds of others suffered not a little hardship. The latter he sent his father was written at intervals during the flood and he gave a very graphic description of the scene from day to day and hour to hour.

There will be a number of out-of-town speakers at the mass meeting this evening and the principal speaker will be Harry W. Kingsman, president of the New England division of the Massachusetts Association of Machinists. Other speakers will include members and delegates from Nashua and Lawrence.

THE VERY IMPUDENCE

A Ford runabout the register number of which was 4491, collided with an automobile truck owned by the Lamson Store Service Supply company, at the corner of Central and Merrimack streets about 2 o'clock this afternoon. Fortunately no one was injured.

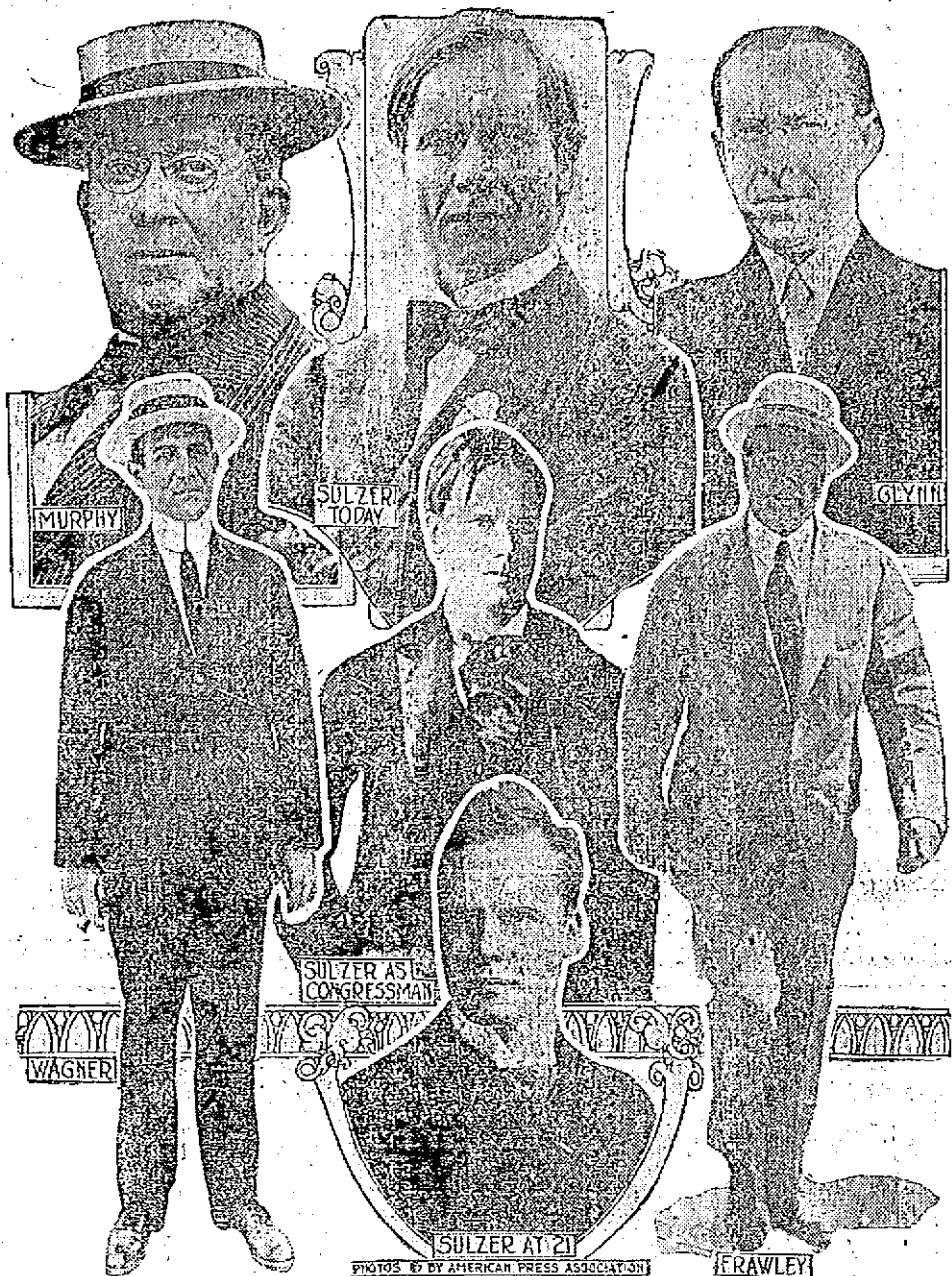

The truck was being driven slowly from Central street into Merrimack and it was followed by the Ford machine. When in front of the Hildreth building a woman stepped from the sidewalk directly in the way of the Lamson machine and the driver stopped suddenly and the little runabout, which was close behind, collided with the truck. The mud guard and right head-light of the Ford machine was badly damaged.

Comparison of Bank Exchanges
NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—Dun's Review tomorrow will say:
The comparison of bank exchanges this week at all leading cities in the United States makes quite an interesting exhibit, the total amounting to only $2,538,148,650, a contraction of 9.4 per cent, as contrasted with the $2,822,665,015 of the same week last year. The falling off at New York is quite pronounced, the returns at that center showing losses of 12.3 and 17.1 per cent, respectively. Only four of the outside cities report larger exchanges than a year ago—Cleveland, Minneapolis, Kansas City and Louisville.

PRINCIPAL FIGURES IN IMPEACHMENT OF GOVERNOR WM. SULZER OF NEW YORK

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 15.—Formal demand for the surrender of the executive chamber and offices, the privy seal, and all books, papers, records and documents relating to the executive department was made upon Governor Sulzer this afternoon by the lieutenant governor, Martin H. Glynn.

Included in the governor's refusal, according to D. Cady Herrick, chief of his counsel, is a proposal that Glynn and Sulzer prepare an agreed statement of the facts in the controversy, and submit them to the courts to determine who is the governor of New York.

MAYOR O'DONNELL ASKS STATE BOARD

Of Health to Pass on Question of Using Water Department Land for Isolation Hospital Site

Mayor O'Donnell has sent a letter to the state board of health, asking this body to inspect the land owned by the water department of the city of Lowell, and situated on the Pawtucket boulevard, as to whether it is a desirable site for the erection of a contagious hospital.

This matter was brought to the attention of the city council at a recent meeting by Commissioner Cummings, who was inclined to favor this site, and at that time it was also suggested that the state board of health be consulted on the matter, but nothing further.

EDWARD MORAN
State Boiler Inspector

Edward Moran of the branch office of the Massachusetts district police in this city, has been transferred to the state house at Boston and has been assigned to a new district including Roxbury and Dorchester. Mr. Moran's home is in Winchester. He left Lowell this afternoon.

Mr. Moran has been state inspector of boilers and examiner of engineers in the district which includes Lowell for nearly six years and he has made a great many friends here. He will be succeeded by a Lowell man, Edward A. Mores of 47 Loring street.

Mr. Mores has been associated with the state police in the capacity of state inspector of boilers and examiner of engineers for several years. The transfer is very agreeable to both Mr. Moran and Mr. Mores as it brings both of them nearer home. Mr. Mores has been stationed in Boston, having a district in the heart of the city.

APOLOGY TO BRITISH GOVERNMENT

Ambassador Page Instructed to Apologize for Comments Made by Ambassador Wilson

LONDON, Aug. 15.—Surprise was caused in England by the news from the United States that Ambassador Page had been instructed to apologize to the British government for the comments made on British Mexican policy by Henry Lane Wilson, American ambassador to Mexico. The affair had not excited the slightest attention and the incident has aroused no ill feeling.

The British newspapers had hitherto ignored Ambassador Wilson's statement, but they print it today as an explanation of the grounds for the apology.

Ambassador Page is not likely to see Sir Edward Grey, the British secretary of state for foreign affairs, this week, as Mr. Page is attending the Pilgrimage ceremony at Southampton today and Sir Edward Grey expects to go to the country tomorrow.

The Westminster Gazette, the government organ, says the difficulties between President Wilson and Ambassador Wilson are "purely domestic" and will not cause a ripple in the relations between the British and American governments.

SEN. PENROSE FORCED. ANOTHER DEBATE ON THE MEXICAN SITUATION

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—Senator

Penrose today forced another debate on the Mexican situation by introducing a resolution calling upon President Wilson to inform the senate whether William Bayard Hale is in Mexico City as the agent of any executive department of the government; if so, by what authority he was appointed, and what compensation he has been given. The White House explanation of Hale's presence in Mexico has been that he was there as a personal friend of President Wilson, forwarding information.

Senator Penrose declared that he had no desire to further complicate a delicate situation or to indulge in jingoism. He referred, however, to dispatches from Mexico telling of the serious plight of Shirley C. Hulse, son-in-law of Lieutenant Governor Reynolds of Pennsylvania who with his wife and little daughter are believed to be in danger from revolutionists near the city Chihuahua. The senator declared that unless the mission of John Lind developed marked change in conditions in Mexico, he would address the senate next week taying before it certain information he did not disclose today.

"Things are getting pretty close to home," declared Senator Penrose, "and are becoming serious when American citizens are molested and their lives and property endangered. Personally I am willing to wait a few days to see if the mysterious mission of Mr. Lind produces any tangible result in

MAN WHO CUT A BELT

To Mend His Shoes Was Fined $20

A larceny case occupied the attention of Judge Barrett at the local police court this morning and, in fact, it was practically all that was on the docket. Edward Ladd, 35, was charged with the larceny of a pair of leather shoes from the store of W. J. Barry's shoe shop and, through his attorney, Daniel J. Donahue, Ladd pleaded not guilty to the charge. The nature of the case was the business running up for the shoes.

William J. Barry and his partner both testified that the defendant had been charged with the larceny of a pair of shoes from their shop, where he worked at the time, with a strip of leather in his possession which had been cut from a fifty-cent leather shoe. Although neither one had seen the defendant actually cut the strip, both felt certain that he had done the job. When questioned about the theft the defendant told the judge that he was taking the leather to mend a pair of shoes with.

charged by the firm and that $5 had been declared on his pay. As payment for the strip of leather he had taken the value of the strip was named as $1 in the warrant and Mr. Donahue dwelt for some time upon the fact that the two manufacturers had tried to make a better deal with their ex-employee. He also showed that the arrest had not been made until after the defendant had refused to forego his suit.

Mr. Barry stated that the belt from which the leather was cut was now worthless as it could not be spliced and used for a motor. The belt, he said, was worth between $50 and $75. Mr. Donahue tried to shake this evidence but to no avail.

Inspector Walsh, who made the capture, related how he had caught the defendant and what the latter told him at the time of his arrest. The sergeant said the Ladd confessed to cutting the belt and both complainants, upon being called back to the stand, remembered the conversation and corroborated the officer's testimony.

Judge Barrett ordered the defendant to pay a fine of $20. He was fined and was held in $100 for the superior court. John Healey received a six dollar fine for drunkenness and Mary McKee was placed on parole for a like offense. There were five releases by the probation officer.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

Merrimack Square Theatre Players
Dr. Howard's famous comedy play, "The Aristocracy," will be the offering by the Merrimack Square Theatre Players the coming week and that the management expects a big success in selecting a play of the unusual interest and power this one possesses is quite apparent. It was first produced at Palmer's theatre, New York city and there enjoyed a most successful run. In it Viola Allen, William Larkins, Blanche Walsh, William Davenport and many other artists, now stars, portrayed the roles in which these young, Walter Scott, John Charles and the other members of the popular company will be seen. It will be elaborately staged and naturally with a piece of this kind the little members of the company will be afforded an opportunity for remarkably costuming.

"Miracle," which is the current week's attraction, is pleasing large audiences at each performance, while the photo-plays also hold much interest. Seats on week in advance. Subscription list now open.

Lakeview Park
Band concerts are scheduled for Sunday afternoon and evening at Lakeview Park and the American band, Emil Borjes director and Bernard Moran vocalist, will be heard in two fine programs. For next week at Lakeview the management has engaged as the special free out-door attraction, Edith Raymond and Co., who will appear on the out-door stage every afternoon and evening. Edith Raymond is known as "the cycling girl on the wire" and will be seen in an act that is both new and startling. For Tuesday evening of next week the management has arranged for another display of fireworks at Lakeview and one of the best displays of the season is promised. Thursday afternoon of next week the boat races that are causing so much interest locally, will be held and from the present number of entries the event promises to be one of exceptional interest. Handicapped prizes to be given to the winners of the races are now displayed in Kittredge's window on Central street.

The attraction there this week is one of the best ever seen at the lake, while the moving picture program at the theatre is well selected.

Theatre Voyons
"The Reformers of the Lost Art of Minding One's Business" is the title of the most discussed play of the month. It is shown at the Theatre Voyons today and if it is missed a real opportunity for enjoyment will be neglected. It tells the story of an organization of theorists who try to make a town over according to their way of thinking irrespective of the rights and liberties of other citizens.

Municipal Band Concert
A fine band concert was given on the South common last night by the National band, R. A. Griffith, conductor. The affair was attended by over 3000 people, who greatly enjoyed the music.

FINGER PRINTS VALID

Indian Made Imprints on
"I. O. U." and is Held

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—Two of three finger prints on an "I. O. U." were as valid as a formal signature, in the opinion of the finger print expert of the United States Marine Corps. In a statement forwarded to the secretary of the Interior today the expert stated the genuineness of 50 finger prints which were given to him for identification and the finding is expected to cause a certain measure of considerable embarrassment. The Indian signed a memorandum acknowledging his indebtedness of several hundred dollars to an attorney, and in addition to affixing his signature, made several finger imprints on the paper. The attorney sent in his claim to the department of the Interior for his fee but in the meantime the Indian denied having signed the paper.

In order to derive the question the department submitted the memorandum for expert examination which disclosed that the prints are identical in 10 different characteristics. This is sufficient, the expert holds, to establish their identity. The department will now pay the fee.

KILL DEER ANYWHERE

Every County in State
Open After Nov. 17

Deer may be killed anywhere in the state of Massachusetts, with the exception of posted land and the Metro-Park and water districts, during the week beginning Monday, Nov. 17. This is the first year for nearly 10 years that the entire state has been thrown open, and it is due, according to the game warden, yesterday of the conservation of game and game, to the most increase in the number of deer and consequent damage to crops.

Licenses Needed
Last year only eight out of the 11 counties were open, while in 1911 only three were open. Some idea of the number of deer now inhabiting the state may be gained from the fact that last year the eight counties now open were killed by hunters, 250 by license, and the state paid damage claims amounting to $10,000 to farmers whose crops were damaged by the deer.

Previous to entering the house the sergeant claims that they sent a man in who purchased a bottle of ale. The search revealed 135 pints of ale, 42 empty bottles and five empty cases. Mrs. Fullo was arrested and will be charged with illegal selling and illegal keeping in the district court to-

UNVEIL MEMORIAL OF PILGRIMS

Celebration of Tercentenary of Departure of Pilgrims From Southampton, Eng. for America

SOUTHAMPTON, England, Aug. 15.—A memorial in celebration of the tercentenary of the departure of the Pilgrims from Southampton for America was unveiled here today by Walter Hines Page, the American ambassador to Great Britain. It is in the form of a column erected on the site of the pier from which the Pilgrims embarked.

The ceremonies opened with a luncheon in the pier pavilion, presided over by the mayor of Southampton. Speeches were made by Sir William W. Portal, Dr. Alexander Hill, president of Hartley university, Southampton; John Morgan Richards and Percy Alden, M. P. Members of the Alden, Winslow and Brewster families also spoke briefly. After the luncheon a procession accompanied by bands of numerous societies interested in the monument, formed and proceeded to the memorial by way of the west gate, through which the ship's company passed to the Mayflower on August 15, 1620.

A brief religious service opened the unveiling ceremonies and as an indication of the undenominational character of the occasion it was conducted by the bishop of Winchester and Rev. G. S. Saunders, minister of the above Bar Congregational chapel, Southampton. The singing was led by the Free Church Choral Union.

Ambassador Page dedicated the monument with an oration in which he quoted James Russell Lowell's saying that the Pilgrims were only colonists who went in search of God instead of gold. He continued:

"They had not been kindly enough treated in England to make life tolerable to them, but still they wished to be English subjects. The blood, the institutions of the family, the loyalty and the trick of supremacy in the breed were theirs and should always be theirs. In all the combinations of the races of men and in all the workings of circumstances no other fusion of great forces was ever so nearly invincible."

Freedom of Opinion

The ambassador went on to say that freedom of worship had led straight to the republican form of government, and the democratic structure of the society on the Mayflower carried the seeds of all republican institutions, including even the seeds of recurring intolerance. The same, linking with destiny, took the form of freedom of opinion on all subjects. Mr. Page contended that the American of today was as strong a believer in his great destiny as were the pilgrims of old. Puritan and Cavalier, he said, still preserve something of their differences in the new world, thus giving a good balance and variety to life there. He concluded:

"This monument is one of the pillars of hope of mankind. The sons of those men whose immortal achievement it commemorates are drawn nearer to you by this tribute to their fathers. And they give you their reverent thanks today and this is their message. The old impulse of our destiny which led the race to whatever new form it may have taken with the changing years is not yet spent. The high, grim spirit of the Pilgrim still lives."

After the memorial proper had been unveiled by the ambassador the representatives of the donors unveiled the various panels which surround the base of the monument.

The cost of the monument was defrayed from public subscriptions in the United States and England, and the bronze panels were donated by various pilgrim societies and the descendants of pilgrim families. It is located on the pier beyond the west gate, through which the Pilgrims passed on their way to the Mayflower. This spot was famous long before the time of the Pilgrim fathers, for tradition asserts that King Canute sat there when he ordered the sea to retreat, and from this pier Shakespeare, who knew Southampton well through his visits to the Earl of Southampton, made the armies of Henry V. embark for their triumphant invasion of France.

INDEMNITY TO JAPANESE

Affected by California Alien Land Law

TOKIO, Aug. 15.—It is announced here that the United States has intimated her readiness to favor in principle the payment of an indemnity to Japanese subjects who have been affected by the California alien land ownership legislation and also has recognized the right of Japanese to adopt a measure similar to the California bill.

From intimations given in official circles it appears unlikely that Japan will adopt either idea. It is said that what she desires is permanent friendly relations with the United States and, therefore, she seeks a fundamental solution of the difficulty. If the United States has no solution of the difficulty to offer, it is stated Japan probably will allow the matter to remain as a grievance.

The public feeling of humiliation in this connection continues to be fanned by inflammatory comments in the newspapers. The Hochi Shimbun, which is often sensational, has been an object lesson to the United States in the expulsion of American missionaries from Korea on the ground that they are undesirable aliens.

FIRE BURNED ITSELF OUT

$150,000 Damage by Blaze at Woodstock

NORTH WOODSTOCK, N. H., Aug. 15.—A survey of the ruins in the path of the fire that burned over the north end of Woodstock last night placed the loss today at a total of approximately $150,000. Four business buildings, and twelve houses and a large amount of lumber owned by the Woodstock Lumber company, were destroyed. The fire which is supposed to have started from sparks from a locomotive engine, burned itself out early today. The flames were driven by the wind which, fortunately blew away from the center of the town. Many guests from the Mountain View hotel and other hotels in the vicinity visited the scene of the fire today.

After the marriage ceremony had been performed the bridal party repaired to the home of the bride where an informal reception was tendered to the members of each family and a few intimate friends of the couple. Mr. and Mrs. Galvin have started on an extended tour of the White Mountains and will take up their residence here about October 1st.

He was removed to the Lowell hospital in the ambulance.

OFFICIAL RETURNS

AUGUSTA, Maine, Aug. 15.—Official returns of the third district congressional primary, held on July 23, at which William R. Fittangalli of Waterville and John A. Peters of Ellsworth were nominated, respectively, as democratic and republican candidates at the special election on September 3 to choose a successor to the late Representative Forrest Goodwin, have been canvassed and will be reported to the governor and council next Friday.

Gould of Skowhegan and Mr. Peters had 2041 more votes than were cast for Roy Haines of Ellsworth, his opponent for the republican nomination. The name of the progressive candidate, Edward M. Lawrence of Lubec, will appear on the ballot by petition. The total votes were as follows: Fittangalli, 5671; Gould, 2937; Peters, 2112; Haines, 1971.

VISITING IN LOWELL

Rev. Sister Marie Jerome of the Jesu community of Tampa, Fla., is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Oiler J. David of 225 Ludlow street. She was accompanied to Lowell by Rev. Sister Marie Coelius, of the same community, but who is stationed at Albany, N. Y.

The two nuns are former Lowell girls, the former is Miss Marie Landry, while the latter is Miss Marie Landry, daughter of Mr. E. W. Carver.

LOCAL POLICE SEARCH FOR BURGLARS

The local police received a bad job last night when a patrol of officers and patrolmen took themselves in the "Black Maria" to the Highlands in search of a burglar, or rather, an alleged burglar. A telephone call brought the night captain to his feet with orders for a detachment. The message over the wire announced that a house opposite the sender was showing a light and that the owner was at present away for the summer. This, of course, convinced the amateur sleuth that a break was in progress. The police arrived on the scene with all due haste but found that the whole expedition was a failure, that is from a police viewpoint. The light was there all right but also was the owner of the house and the police returned to the station in disgust.

The Voting Machine

Two representatives of the American Voting Machine company were at city hall this forenoon with a specimen of their invention, and gave a demonstration of the workings of the machine before the members of the municipal council.

The apparatus is quite a piece of machinery, working on the same principles as an adding machine, while errors are impossible. Another feature with the machine is that as soon as the last man has cast his vote, the result of the election is ready to be given out, for the votes are automatically counted as cast.

PATIENT FATALLY BEATEN IN ASYLUM

WORCESTER, Mass., Aug. 15.—Mrs. Ida Crane, an inmate of the Worcester state hospital for the insane, who was committed from Dalton, was fatally beaten by another patient Tuesday. She died the following day.

The death of Mrs. Crane, who was 61 years of age, was made known by the authorities of the asylum today but they refused to disclose the identity of her assailant. Assistant Medical Examiner E. N. Hunt held an autopsy and found that death was due to a fracture of the skull. The jawbone also was broken. It was said that Mrs. Crane was seated in a hallway where an insane woman was mopping the floor. The latter suddenly attacked her with the mop handle, striking her over the head and face.

FIND BODY OF MAN IN STALL

WOODSTOCK, Conn., Aug. 15.—Circumstances surrounding the death of Jonas Lawson, whose body was found lying in a stall in his stable this morning with his head crushed, are the subject of an investigation being conducted by State Coroner W. G. Bill. Dr. J. S. Spaulding, the medical examiner, who performed an autopsy on the body, and Coroner Bill, both decline to discuss the case.

Lawson left the house to go to the stable and care for a sick horse. When he failed to return his wife became alarmed and went in search of him. She found his body in the barn and the horse running around loose.

Values vs. Bargains

The P. & Q. shop deals in values.

According to current advertising in the newspapers, most other clothiers in town are dealing in bargains. There's a difference.

P. & Q. suits would be a bargain at $20 to $25—but they never cost you more than $10 or $15 at any time of the year. When we opened these doors for the first time, we marked our prices down to exactly the figure that other clothiers are now marking on clothes of no greater value, which they have been selling from $5 to $10 more.

Do not be misled into buying something you don't want simply because it's cheap. $10 and $15 is all you need to pay for a first class, fine fitting, beautifully tailored, brand new summer suit. You can get it here in almost any style you choose. You are letting money slip through your fingers by not buying your clothes from the P. & Q. Shop.

$1,500,000 CLAIM AGAINST R. R.

Judge Hammond of the Supreme Judicial Court Hears the Arguments of Demurrer for N.E.R.R.

BOSTON, Aug. 15.—Judge Hammond of the supreme judicial court today heard arguments on the demurrer of the Southern New England Railroad company to a bill in equity brought against it by John March who seeks to establish a claim against the company for $1,500,000, arising out of the alleged breach of contract. March was represented by Sherman L. Whipple and the Southern New England by C. A. Hight. At the close of the arguments Judge Hammond said that in view of the importance of the questions raised he would reserve his decision.

Mr. Hight pointed out what he claimed were inconsistencies in the bill of the plaintiff and contended that a court of equity could not take jurisdiction of the allegations set out in the bill. It was an attempt, he said, to join a general creditors' bill with another bill brought by a single creditor of the Southern New England to reach and apply funds in the hands of other parties belonging to the Southern New England. The first part of March's bill, said Mr. Hight, was merely a statement of what constituted an action at law, and it was only in the closing paragraphs of the bill that there was any suggestion of equitable relief.

Right to Suspend Work

Mr. Hight then called the attention of the court to paragraph seven of the contract entered into by Mr. March and the Southern New England company. That paragraph reserved to the Southern New England company the right to suspend the work, or any part of the same, for such length of time and as often as the company might require. Under that contract the Southern New England had recently ordered March to resume work, but he has refused to do so until he is paid a certain amount of money. At this point Mr. Whipple interrupted Mr. Hight by saying that the order to March to resume work was not given until after the federal grand jury at New York had returned indictments against President Mollen of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad company, and President Chamberlin of the Grand Trunk for entering into an unlawful traffic agreement.

In continuing his argument Mr. Hight dwelt upon what he contended were inconsistencies in March's bill and said if the bill was based on the ground that March had a claim against the Grand Trunk then the Grand Trunk and the Central Vermont must be made parties. Unless these two companies were joined the bill as it now stood was fatally defective.

Mr. Whipple claimed that the bill before the court was that of general creditors. In addition to the claim of March for about $1,500,000, there were others whose claims approximately amounted to about $2,000,000. If March were allowed through a receiver to bring suits against the Grand Trunk and the Central Vermont roads under their agreements to finance the Southern New England enterprise there would be funds sufficient to pay all creditors in full. The obligation of the Grand Trunk and the Central Vermont was in existence, although it could not be described in exact terms. When March was invited to bid for building the roadbed of the Southern New England he was told by officials of the Grand Trunk that that company was behind the construction of the Southern New England line. Mr. Whipple said he did not think that either the Grand Trunk or the Central Vermont, or both, were necessary parties to the present bill as in case the court should overrule the demurrer and take jurisdiction of March's bill, both the Grand Trunk and the Central Vermont could be reached by a receiver.

'WALK THE PLANK'

Haverhill Judge Says Suspended Sentences Bring No Reform—New Court Rule

HAVERHILL, Aug. 15.—The court finds that in the cases of persons against whom fines have been imposed, it is against public interests to suspend the sentences. The new ruling which Judge Cavan handed down in the district court session yesterday morning when he declined to suspend sentences in the cases of drunkenness offenders who have been in court so many times that suspensions of sentences have worked no reformations.

It was a big grist, an unusual one, that the court found waiting for him and there was a variety of cases too. After imposing sentences Judge Cavan made his ruling that he found it to be against public policy to suspend sentences in this kind of case. He said that such a stand has been taken by any local justice and it was a direct statement to the effect that the court could see no advantage to be gained by suspensions.

MANY SLEEP IN MOTOR BOATS

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 15.—Unique schemes have been adopted by many residents of this city to obtain sleep during the hot nights which have prevailed for more than two weeks. Scores of wealthy families on the south side at night start for the country in their motor cars. When they come to an elevated spot where the prospect of a breeze seems good they get out, make their beds in the open and sleep there until driven back home by hot rays of the morning sun.

Bert Norris, swimming instructor of the Kansas City Yacht club, said today that he sleeps with a damp blanket over him. "I am always in the water and don't take cold, but I would not advise anyone else to adopt my plan," he said.

Many persons sleep in motor boats on the Missouri river where the air is cool after dark.

LOLA NORRIS ON STAND

Testifies in Diggs White Slave Case

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 15.—Lola Norris, who followed Marsha Warrington on the stand yesterday in the trial of Maury I. Diggs, charged with violation of the Mann white slave act, was the first witness called today. She resumed the story that was related with such a mass of detail by her companion in trouble.

Only in the manner of its delivery did the testimony of Miss Norris differ from that of the other girl. Her answers were sharper, more spirited than those of her companion. She was able to supplement nothing to the narrative of the Warrington girl. She could only confirm statements and descriptions of events already described. Step by step she went over the fight to Reno and the Marsha Warrington had made with Diggs and Drew Caninetti. When her cross-examination began she retained her composure, answering the searching question of the defense evenly and without hesitation. Throughout the clung to her original story.

In accordance with the announcement of Judge Van Fleet the case was to be adjourned at the close of the afternoon hearing until next Tuesday morning. It is probable that the defense will then begin the presentation of its case.

MINE HOST TOM HOBAN

Throws Open His Camp Doors to His Friends

When Thomas F. Hoban recently severed his connection with the Lowell inn, the employees of that hostelry and a few friends about the hotel tendered him a banquet and presented him a beautiful loving cup. To reciprocate, "Tom" invited the bunch to spend a day with him at his cozy and hospitable camp on the shores of Long-Sought-For pond and yesterday was the day. A party of about 35 were in attendance, using Conway's big auto truck and private autos to reach the pond. Upon arrival a dainty buffet lunch was served by Henry Bros., who later in the day provided a sumptuous dinner and corn roast. Prof. Devine Landry presided over the commissary department. An eight-piece orchestra, directed by Jan. Buckley, gave a delightful musical program which attracted many of the neighboring cottagers in canoes and row boats. A long list of sports was run off for which watch fobs were distributed as prizes. A red hot ball game was played on an imaginary ball ground and there were quite games, boxing, wrestling, tug-of-war and a host of out-door sports. Among the guests was Capt. Matt Downs of the Brick tavern, who on Aug. 29 will observe his 55th birthday anniversary. Aside from a little rheumatism, Capt. Downs "is just as young as he used to be" and he reported that his estimable wife, to whom he has been married almost 61 years, is also enjoying good health. Another guest was Police Inspector Thomas Kenetick of the Boston police department, who is the guest of Mr. John P. Hall at the latter's summer cottage at Long-Sought-For. After witnessing a most magnificent sunset, the party returned to Lowell in the evening and in their praise of the hospitality of Mine Host Hoban.

SULZER'S IMPEACHMENT

Governor Sulzer enjoys the unique and unenviable distinction of being the first chief executive of the state of New York against whom impeachment proceedings have been brought. His plight is pitiable. Even though the charges will not be sustained eventually he has reached his political Waterloo. He defied Tammany, rashly perhaps, and he now reaps the consequences of his defiance. The shield of honor which he held up against the poisoned darts of political hostility was defective and the darts have found a mark. It may possibly be that a vital part has not been pierced, but he will never quite recover from the wound. A great self-alleged champion of the people has fallen.

The charges brought against the governor are serious indeed. The flagrant misuse of campaign funds and the making of false returns under the corrupt practices act are both offenses for which he can be punished by the courts of the state. When the charges also include the open trading of political patronage and shady use of the executive power in securing desired legislation, there is a misdemeanor charged against which many will rebel more than against the charge of open dishonesty. In a governor of a state anything that savors of gross and unabashed political corruption is absolutely repellent to all feelings of right and propriety. He will have a fair share of public sympathy but the charges are too serious and the evidence is too strong to admit of public sympathy coming between him and the consequences of his reprehensible folly.

The way of Sulzer has been anything but smooth of late. He apparently was sincere in his war on the New York stock exchange and in this way aroused a great deal of hostility in financial circles. He openly threw down the gauntlet to Tammany and aroused a storm of political hostility. But so fierce and relentless was the persecution to which he was subjected that the people were being gradually drawn to his side in a desire to see fair play. As a clever opportunist he was turning all opposing elements to his advantage when the charges of corruption of the grossest nature came to turn away the sympathy of the public. Nothing he has ever said or done or suffered can now shield him. He must face a fair and impartial tribunal and have his record examined in the open. He will be fortunate indeed if he is still governor of New York state when the ordeal is over. If he is innocent he ought to welcome the deepest investigation, for the accusations are the kind that will not die unless he is acquitted by the senate of the state. Even should he be removed, all that is manly in him should welcome deserved defeat rather than a continuance in office under false pretences.

The plight of Sulzer is not without its lessons for all who hold political office or aspire to it. Had he kept free from personal dishonesty he could openly defy all the political bosses of the country. He would be forgiven for failure in carrying out some of his reform schemes or grave mistakes made sincerely. But he gave political enemies a power over him which they could use only too well to his disadvantage and ruin. Honesty is surely the best policy for the governor of a state as well as the grocery store clerk.

Thus far Sulzer's defence has been extremely weak. His denial was slow in coming in the first instance and when it did come it was not satisfactory. But still more weak and inadequate is the claim of his wife that the blame must be laid to her door. The sympathy of the country goes out to her in her evident desire to shield her husband but it is not a case to be settled by the words or tears of a devoted woman. Even the enemies of Sulzer, the governor, may find something to admire in Sulzer, the man, eventually, but as yet it is being kept under a bushel. A great political and moral drama is being played. The state of New York is the theatre and the people of the entire country are the audience. We are all anxious for the curtain to rise.

BACK TO THE LAND

According to Secretary Wheeler of the state board of agriculture, there are fully 5,000,000 acres of waste land in this state which, if brought under cultivation, would produce all the food necessary for the maintenance of the inhabitants. One traveler in Massachusetts will be convinced of the truth of his statement. On the whole, farms are few and far between; there is no sign of cultivation for miles in many places. Between the small and comparatively few farms stretch acres of swamp and tangled woods. Much of this land could not, of course, be made productive by any degree of cultivation, but there are thousands of fertile acres where underbrush and rank vegetation flourish, which, were they converted into farms, would give rich returns in crops for the labor expended in reclaiming them.

Considering this fact it is regrettable that thousands will voluntarily congregate in congested sections of crowded cities, breathing impure air and eking out a miserable existence. The tendency of men is to huddle together in communities. Towns and cities offer an attraction to most that not all the freedom and rural charm of farm life can supply. This is surprising indeed, particularly in the case of some foreign peoples who come here from the farms of their respective countries and crowd into the mills and factories. Considering this, we can understand the country wide movements which aim at stirring up a taste for country life in people who seem to have gone far from the lives and aims of their fathers.

The work of farming is difficult, it is true, and the returns are small. But, if we are to believe the statements given out of late in the great textile strikes of this region, thousands who work in the teeming mills barely make enough to feed and clothe them. They could surely do this on farms and there is no comparison between country life and the city life that they are forced to live. But the argument is not all in favor of the farm; our New England winters take away some of the charm as well as the profit, and facilities for getting crops to market are not good. With railroad and trolley improvements and education of the masses on the possibilities that surround them we may eventually expect a "back to the land" desire in the hearts of hundreds who now barely exist in cities.

MORALS AND WAGES

A great many people labor under the delusion that the recent investigations for the purpose of establishing the possible connection between low wages and vice resulted in a lowering of the reputation of working girls as a class, in public estimation. Even in the ranks of the girls themselves there was open hostility to what they claimed was an allegation that only by getting a certain weekly wage could a girl keep from dishonor and sin. Some people worked themselves up into a virtuous indignation at the results of the sensational inquiries and declared that those who were so misguided in their zeal as to try to establish a minimum wage for working girls were not keeping the best interests of the girls to the forefront. There is something to be said in favor of this side of the question but if examined without haste or excitement it will be seen that the so-called vice investigations did not and could not in the slightest degree lower the character of working girls as a class.

The morals of a woman do not depend on her wages. There have been queens who have shocked the world by the grossest immorality and there have been girls whose natures blossomed like a stainless lily in surroundings of poverty and crime. Attempts to establish a minimum wage may have been amateur and in some cases ill judged, but they were not injurious. They resulted in the fact, at least that in cities like Chicago and New York one cannot live a normal life without having a certain sum of money to spend weekly, and that many, a great many unfortunately, do not get that sum. Are we to assume then that all of those girls who do not get a living wage are adding to their incomes by walking the road of shame? Certainly not. But there are hundreds and thousands living who do not live real lives. They are hedged around by poverty and the walls of unfulfilled desire. It is crude and unromantic to suppose that a two dollar or a five dollar bill weekly is the bridge that will lead them to Arcady across the river of indigence, but in many cases it is too true. This bridge many cannot find. Is it surprising that some take the "easiest way" of finding it?

DESERVED COMMENDATION

At the large outing of the Lowell board of trade at the great railroad repair shops in North Billerica yesterday, Congressman Rogers, F. K. Irwin, the special engineer in charge of the work; Mayor O'Donnell, and the other speakers prefaced their remarks by congratulating the body in general and President George M. Harrington in particular for the spirit of untiring activity that resulted in the choice of the site for the railroad shops. This commendation and congratulation was richly deserved. If, as Congressman Rogers said, the Lowell board of trade had dissolved after having succeeded in bringing the repair shops to their immediate vicinity, it would have justified its existence. The great plan is a practical and enduring illustration of the power of civic spirit when directed by brains and energy and actuated by lofty and unselfish motives.

Seen and Heard

It's the loneliest house you ever saw
This big gray house where I stay—
I don't call it home at all—
Since my mother went away.

Four long weeks ago, an' it seems a
"Gone home," so the preacher said,
An' I ache in my breast with wantin'
her.
An' my eyes are always red.

I stay out of doors till I'm almost froze
Cause every corner and room
Seems empty enough to frighten a boy.
An' all the doors with gloom.

I have them to call me to my meals,
Sometimes I think I can't
To swallow a mouthful of anything.
An' her not sittin' up there.

A-pouring the tea an' passin' the things.
An' laughin' to see me take
Two big lumps of sugar instead of one,
An' more than my share of cake.

There's no one to go to when things
go wrong:
She was always so safe and sure,
Why then is not a trouble could tackle
a boy
That she couldn't up and cure.

I'm too big to be kissed, I used to say,
But somehow I don't feel right
Crawlin' into bed as still as a mouse—
Nobody saying good-night—

An' tuckin' the clothes up under my chin.
An' pushin' my hair back, so,
Things a boy made fun of before his chums.
But things that he likes, you know.

I can't make it out for the life of me.
Why she should have to go
An' her boy left here in this old gray
house
A-needin' an' wantin' her so.

There are lots of women, it seems to
me,
That wouldn't be missed so much—
Women whose boys are all grown up,
An' old maid aunts, an' such.

I tell you, the loneliest thing
In this great big world today
Is a boy of ten whose heart is broke
Cause his mother is gone away.

sweetly.

"Monday evening," he reiterated slowly and thoughtfully. "I am very

"Then Tuesday evening? How will that be?"

"Nor can I make it Tuesday evening.
I have an appointment."

"I'm so sorry. But Wednesday

"I'm going down to Boston Wednes-evening. Surely you can."

"Well," said the young man
"suppose we make it Monday evening."

EDUCATION NOTES

Enlisted men in the American navy serve as teachers in the island of Guam.

Teachers in the Province of Ontario receive a subsidy of $19 per year if they maintain a school garden.

A co-operative egg-selling association, with the schoolhouse as the place for gathering eggs, the children to bring them in, and the teacher to supervise the sales, is suggested by W.
J. Shuford, of Hickory, N. C.

Of 1100 cases of removal from the country to city personally investigated by T. J. Coates, supervisor of rural schools in Kentucky, more than 1000 were caused by a desire for better school, church, and social advantages.

Marked progress in Alabama high school is reported to the United States bureau of education. In 1908 there were 50 high schools, few of them with courses of more than three years in length; now there are 132 institutions doing high school work, all but 14 of which have full four-year courses.

That the country church can and
ought to lead in the campaign for better elementary public schools, for better school revenues, for more enlightened ideals of school efficiency, for larger enrollment, better attendance,
and less illiteracy in the rural regions,
is declared in resolutions recently adopted by a conference on the country church.

Agricultural engineering is becoming a highly important subject in the agricultural colleges, according to figures compiled by F. B. Jenks of the United States bureau of education.
Twenty of the state colleges now give specific instruction in this subject for prospective farmers. The State Agricultural college of Utah has a four-year course in agricultural engineering and Pennsylvania state college gives a course in industrial engineering, which includes farm engineering.

"Rural illiteracy in the south is largely the result of an economic condition and will not disappear until this economic condition changes," declares
E. C. Brannon of the State Normal school at Athens, Ga. "They say in the south that it takes 13 months of the year to raise, pick, and market a crop of cotton. Children are useful
and in demand throughout the year.
The children of the tenant farmer do not have to go to school—or so the tenant commonly believes."

KICKED AND BEAT HIM

Theatre Man Attacked
by Rowdies

BOSTON, Aug. 15.—The early arrival
of Special Officer Rich of the Everett police and Nathan Brown, a motion picture theatre proprietor, saved Allan
Woodward, of 111 Hancock street,
Everett, from being seriously injured
last night by a crowd of 30 men known as the Lynde street gang.

Woodward who is 29 years old, is an usher in a moving picture theatre on Broadway, Everett. Because of the actions of the Lynde street gang in the theatre last evening, Woodward was forced to call Special Officer Rich to the scene.

The latter hid in a sheltered spot
until after the theatre had closed and when Woodward was passing them on his way home they jumped upon him
and kicked and beat him until he was badly bruised about the head and body.

Woodward was taken to the hospital and is now recovering from his injuries.

A furor was caused in the camp
when the guide who went to the cache
where Knowles was to leave his message written with charcoal on birch-bark, returned bearing with him
Knowles' first communication.

"He's All Right," Says Guide

"He's all right, boys," shouted the guide, waving aloft the message to the friends that met him.

The message was brief. It had evidently been dictated with a great deal of difficulty. The characters were hard to make out in some instances for it
had evidently been in the cache for several hours and a shower had wet
it. But the main point it contained was that Knowles, physically, was in good shape. He had not yet secured any badly covering when the message was written, and was as naked

as when he entered the forest without

food or clothing or any kind of implement to aid him in securing them.

More messages are expected, however, which will relate more fully just how he has protected himself from the onslaught of the insects which infest
the wilderness at this time of year.

Knowles said in his message that he was somewhat scratched up from the thistles and rough underbrush and
these wounds annoyed him.

WILL STAY UNTIL CLOSE OF SEASON

PITCHER FINNERAN

Joe Finneran, the Lowell twirler who pitched Manager Gray's team to victory in the first game yesterday, has been recalled by the Philadelphia club of the National league and will report there as soon as the New England league season draws to a close.

Finneran was farmed out to Lowell by Manager Dootin of the Phillies in order to gain a little more experience before going into the "big show." The Philadelphia baseball pilot got in touch with Manager Gray when he found out his recruit was going so well and asked to have him delivered at once. Nothing but the most strenuous arguments kept Dootin from enforcing his demands on the player and taking him forthwith but as Managers Dootin and Gray are friends of long standing Finneran was at last released.

Surprises at the Detroit
Track—Other Races

DETROIT, Aug. 15.—Of the three races on the card yesterday, the 2:05 trot was most important, and it proved an upset. Cheney, the strong favorite, was handled with ease by Marigold in comparatively slow time. Peter Thompson made his debut in this race, but broke out him out of it, although he showed great finishing power.

Cox went to the well once too often with Cabell. After winning on Wednesday, he started that horse back and the public made him favorite. Cabell was all right for two heats, but Murphy beat him after that, and a chunk of money changed hands.

Grand Marshall, which won at Grand Rapids and was distanced at Kalamazoo and here, showed returning form by winning the 2:15 trot after Eleanor G had taken a heat.

Duo Archdale, Anvil and Reussens, M. and M. winners, occupy adjoining stalls in the Geers stable, and were paraded yesterday.

FLETCHER IN JOYOUS AND GRIM MOODS AND IN ACTION FOR THE NEW YORK GIANTS

FLETCHER

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—Arthur Fletcher's bat is proving one of the biggest factors in the present rush for the pennant indulged in by the Giants.

Fletcher, who is one of the team's reliables, is hitting the ball hard and often of late. His timely smash has pulled the game out of the fire on more than one occasion for McGraw's men. The two views of Fletcher's face show how he looks when he scores a long hit and when he is thrown out. Fletcher will likely be an active factor in the world's series if the New Yorks capture the pennant.

Pitchers Byers and Carson Will Join Team in Chicago—Both are Highly Recommended

BOSTON, Aug. 15.—William Byers and Irving J. Carson, pitchers who signed up with the Red Sox yesterday, will leave on Sunday and join the team at Chicago. Byers is a left-hander and Carson a right-handed twirler. The latter is but 19 years old and played with the Milton High school team in 1910, 1911 and 1912. Last summer he pitched for the Braintree A. A., a semi-professional team, and pitched a no-hit no-run game.

LOWELL SLUGGERS TAKE 2 GAMES

Finneran and Halstein Bat in 4 to 3 Win—Second Game a Batting Bee—5 Home Runs Made

In a sensational double-header yesterday afternoon at Spaulding park Lowell defeated her old rival, Lawrence, in both games, climbing into second place by the double win. Both games furnished the spectators with plenty of excitement.

In the first game Lawrence forged ahead in their half of the third. Lawrence had already scored one run in the second and drove in two more in the next inning. In the last half of this inning timely hitting by Finneran and Halstein put four tallies across the plate, giving Lowell a one run lead. This ended the scoring for both teams.

In the first inning Carlstrom fled out to DeGroat. O'Connell hit safely to center, but was forced out at second when Bruggy grounded to Miller. Bruggy hit to Luster hit to Miller.

Clemens fled out to Bruggy. Miller hit, but went out. Bruggy to Courtney, when he tried to steal second. DeGroat walked, but he also fell a victim to Bruggy's arm.

Score: Lowell 4, Lawrence 0.
Mahoney opened the second with a single to right, but was thrown out. DeGroat to Miller, when he tried to stretch it into a double. Courtney singled to center and then stole second. Phoenix struck out, but Bruggy singled to right, scoring Courtney. Sweetonick struck out.

Magee struck out. Halstein got a life on Courtney's error and stole second. Daly advanced to third with his infield out. Halstein was left standing at the third sack when Aubrey popped to Phoenix.

Score: Lowell 4, Lawrence 1.
Lawrence scored two more in the third. Courtney struck with a single to left. O'Connell sacrificed him to second. On Bruggy's out, Miller to Halstein, Carlstrom went to third. Luster slammed the ball over the left Magee's glove and O'Connell fell a victim to Aubrey on his hard grounder. DeGroat opened Lowell's half of the eighth by drawing a pass. Magee sacrificed him to second and he took third on Halstein's infield out. Daly closed the inning with a grounder to Mahoney. Score: Lowell 4, Lawrence 3.

Finneran had complete control of the game in the ninth. Bruggy fled out to Magee. Daly stopped Luster

Clemens closed the eventful inning by striking out. This inning settled the second game although Lowell added six more runs and Lawrence came through with five. Knapp was yanked before the completion of the second and Martin sent in but the southpaw received scarcely better treatment than his predecessor. DeGroat, Miller, Halstein and Au-

THE SECOND GAME

The second game was a batting carnival with Lowell doing the majority of the club swinging. Four home runs were made in this game three of them by the visitors. Maybom officiated on the mound for the locals and nothing but heavy hitting by his teammates staved off a defeat. The Lawrence twirlers, Knapp and Martin, were no steeper than Maybom, however, and the Grays clubbed the sphere all over the park.

Lowell got seventeen hits and had but one fielding error while Lawrence batted out eight hits, three of which were home runs, and were guilty of two misplays. All the luck was with Lowell in this game, three hits being made on grounders which bounded just out of the infield's reach.

Mahoney was hit in the head by a slashing grounder in the third inning of this game and forced to retire in favor of Harrison. Bruggy also had his right thumb dislocated. Galvin worked for one inning but his old injury showed him up and Bruggy had to be pulled in from left field. Ferrin took Bruggy's place in left.

After Dee had walked and Maybom fled out to Luster, Lowell proceeded to sew up the game in the second. Lawrence had scored two runs in her half and had a one run lead as Lowell had scored once in the first.

Clemens singled to center placing Dee on second. Miller laid down a bunt and converted it into a hit by fast footwork. With three men on DeGroat batted out to center which scored three runners. Magee laid down another bunt and beat it out. Halstein smashed one at Courtney which almost took him off his feet and the bases were crowded again.

Halstein put a high one nearly to the left field fence and Bruggy dropped the ball. Two runs resulted. Halstein and Daly executed a double steal, the former scoring. Dee was hit after Aubrey had fled out and Maybom scored Daly with a single to center.

Score: Lowell 4, Lawrence 3.
Lawrence never had a chance in the eighth. After Knapp had gone out on strike Carlstrom put an easy one into

DIAMOND DAZZLES

That top berth is not exactly remote. A Lowell win today and a Portland defeat and we stand at the topmost rung of the league ladder. Fall River is in the cellar but that does not mean that we have already won today's game and tomorrow's double-header.

All River looks more formidable than Lawrence did in the second game. Manager Pieper has about given up hopes of winning the 1913 flag. With Bruggy and Galvin both on the injured list he is indeed playing in tough luck. Mahoney's injury, received in the second contest, is nothing but temporary however.

DeGroat's brother was a spectator at yesterday's double-header and was of the opinion that Manager Gray should pay him a salary for his constant attendance. DeGroat played one of the greatest games of his career.

Case lost error in two games is quite a change for the locals. Dee made the only Lowell misplay when he heaved the ball over Halstein's head. Aubrey and Miller covered that second sack to perfection yesterday.

The Bull Durham checks were flying around the field and fast in the second contest and Mr. Luster was not at all bashful about claiming one in the first game. That client of Bruggy's would have gone over a forty-foot fence and must have rolled back to Wentworth avenue. This last, however, is a guess.

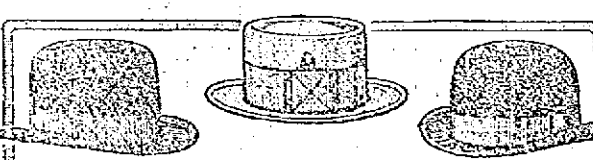

Red Rorty banished Henderson from the coaching lines in both contests. Red did not approve of the Lowell southpaw when the latter began kidding the mops and immediately ordered Henderson to the bench. "What asein," yelled Henderson on the second occasion but Red never so much as displayed his usual smile.

The pitchers around the circuit are beginning to feel Finney in a pinch. The three runners which started Lowell's rally in the third inning of the first game is a repetition of what he pulled off a few weeks ago at the park. Finney pitched a great game after he settled down to business in the fourth.

SUMMER PLAYGROUNDS

In Lowell are a Big Success This Year

The playgrounds throughout the city are "catching on" better than ever at the present time of the year and a visit to the North common any morning or afternoon would give one a demonstration of the enjoyment that hundreds of children, boys and girls, find there daily. From 9 to 11 and 2 to 4:30, the hours that the supervisors are present a happier or more contented group of children could not be found in the city than those who gather at the North common playgrounds.

The attendance has steadily increased during the present year and the discipline has been excellent. Supervisor Charles Donahue has charge of the grounds and children during the above hours and much credit is due him for the large attendance and excellent behavior of the youngsters who gather there to spend their leisure hours. Although there are hundreds of children playing different games on all parts of the common at one time, everything runs off smoothly and the youngsters under the care of the supervisor are as free from harm or mischief as they would be in their own homes.

This common is also particularly well adapted for the children's play and during the hot hours of the day games are played under the shade trees. The feature game at the North common, which probably is responsible for the extra large attendance, is baseball, and the youngsters take great delight in taking part in this game for hours at a time in the hope of acquiring the speed of Ty Cobb or some other baseball star. From early morning until sundown with only a short recess in which to partake of their noon meal, the youngsters play the game, and some speedy young baseball teams have been developed on the grounds this year. In the afternoon when the common is going in full force, no less than six or seven games are going on at one time and there is no doubt but what Supervisor Donahue is a busy young man keeping "tabs" on his "students" and seeing that they are not being disturbed by the many spectators who gather on the common to watch the youngsters play their games.

Some Star Jumpers
There are plenty of other sports for the boys and track events are frequently held. Some star jumpers can be

How Thin People Can Put On Flesh

A New Discovery

Thin men and women—that big, hearty, filling dinner you ate last night. What became of all the fat-producing nourishment it contained? You haven't gained in weight one ounce. That food passed from your body like unburned coal through an open grate. The material was there, but your food doesn't work and stick, and the plain truth is you hardly get enough nourishment from your meals to feed the coal of cooking. This is true of thin folks the world over. Your nutritive organs, your functions of assimilation, are sadly out of gear and need reconstruction. Cut out the foolish foods and funny sawdust diets. Omit the flesh cream rub-ons. Cut out everything but the meals you are eating now and eat with every one of those single Sargol tablets. In two weeks note the difference. Five to eight good solid pounds of healthy, "stay there" fat should be the net result. Sargol charges your weak, stagnant blood with millions of fresh new red blood corpuscles—gives the blood the carrying power to deliver every ounce of fat making material in your food to every part of your body. Sargol, too, mixes with your food and prepares it for the blood in easily assimilated form. Thin people gain all the way from 10 to 25 pounds a month while taking Sargol, and the new flesh stays put. Sargol tablets are a scientific combination of six of the best flesh-producing elements known to chemistry. They come in 40 tablets to a package, are pleasant, harmless and inexpensive, and all druggists and grocers subject to an absolute guarantee of weight increase or money back.

THE COMFORT STATION

appropriation for the building of a bridge across the Wamesit canal was presented, but action was deferred to a later date.

Pole Location Hearing
The first matter to come before the meeting was a hearing on the petition of the Bay State Street Railway company for pole locations in Bridge street between Fourth and Fifth streets. The mayor explained a hearing was held on a previous date, but inasmuch as some of the abutters were not notified, another hearing was scheduled for today.

Supt. Farrington of the railway company was present and he said he represented the company on its petition for pole locations in Bridge street from First to Sixth streets. Miss Addie B. Merrill appeared as a remonstrant and said one of the pole locations is opposite the window of her property. Com. Cummings suggested that the location of this particular pole be changed to the end of the lot, and the same was agreeable to both parties, and the petition was referred.

A petition for the discontinuance of several gas lights in the city, was referred.

Mrs. John Shea and Dr. G. L. Van Dusen filed claims for damages caused by trees, and the same were referred to the department of claims.

The Bull Moosers

A communication from the secretary of the state committee of the progressive party, Matthew Hale, asking that two inspectors be appointed for each precinct booth, was read and referred to the commissioner of finance.

The Comfort Station

An ordinance pertaining to the general charge of the comfort station and other similar stations which may be established in Lowell to be in the care of the mayor, was read.

Com. Brown said he was opposed to the ordinance saying the station should be in the care of the commissioner of public property. The ordinance was ordered.

An order for the appropriation of the sum of $2500 for the maintenance of the comfort station in Paige street for the remaining part of the year of 1913, was read.

Com. Brown said he did not believe the city has that sum of money in the treasury.

The mayor informed the council that a certain sum of money is coming to the city sometime next week from various railroad companies. City Solicitor Hennessy said he believed the money would be received by Friday morning.

Mr. Brown said he was not in favor of taking this money from the general treasury, but would favor the transfer of $10,000 from the fire department to the general treasury.

"There is a surplus of $10,000 in that department," said Mr. Brown, "and I would favor the transfer and take the $2500 for the comfort station from that amount."

The mayor said the year's report was not in yet, and the money is needed right away.

Inasmuch as Com. Barrett was not present at the meeting, action on the passing of the order was postponed to a later date.

Mayor O'Donnell announced that he had engaged carpenters for the comfort station in Paige street, their salary to be $2 per day. These men will go to work immediately.

C. F. George filed a claim for an account due him for labor during the years of 1909 and 1911 and which he claims was thrown down by Commissioner Cummings. The same was referred to the department of claims.

A petition from the New England Tel. Co. for the location of a pole in South Highland street at the corner of Burns street, was granted.

A Land Payment
An order to appropriate the sum of $83.12 for the payment of land utilized in 1911 for the grading of Eleventh street, to Frances A. Lamson, was read.

Commissioner Brown objected to the passing of the order, but the same was adopted, Mr. Brown voting in the negative.

An order to borrow $3000 and appropriate the same to pay one-fourth of the cost of the building of a bridge across the Wamesit canal in Lawrence street, was read and adopted.

Tribute to Gen. Jones
Commissioner Cummings read a tribute to the late Gen. E. H. Jones, who died yesterday at Binghamton, N. Y., the same being as follows:

Gen. Edward H. Jones died in Binghamton, N. Y., Aug. 14, after a long illness. Gen. Jones at the opening of the Civil war was colonel of the Sixth Mass. regiment. WARRANTS FOR OFFICERS

Result of Ejection of New York Dinners

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—With Mayor Gaynor and Dist. Atty. Whitman at odds over the mayor's 1 o'clock curfew crusade, a magistrate yesterday issued warrants charging assault against Inspector John P. Dwyer and 13 policemen who were concerned in ejecting men and women diners from Thomas Healy's restaurant an hour after midnight yesterday morning.

Mr. Whitman was among those who were thrown out.

Dwyer and five of the policemen were arraigned in court and held for a hearing Saturday morning.

Magistrate Duell, who issued the warrants and took the names of the prisoners, wrote to the district attorney declaring there had been "usurpation of judicial functions by the police officials" and recommending a grand jury investigation. He described the situation as "acute and dangerous."

Mr. Whitman conferred with the grand jury and it was announced that an inquiry would be begun next week.

CONTROL OF THE COMFORT STATION

Fixed by Vote of the Municipal Council—Ald. Brown Opposed to Mayor's Control of Station

An adjourned meeting of the municipal council, was held, this forenoon at city hall with all members present but Commissioner Barrett, who is very busy on the big job of laying the 24 inch water main across the Merrimack river. Mayor O'Donnell called the meeting to order at 11:25 o'clock and a list of routine business was put through.

Commissioner Brown objected to the passing of the ordinance with reference to the care of the comfort station, but without his vote the same was accepted. An order for a $3000

PAUL E. BURNHAM OF THIS CITY

Says There is Nothing to Prevent Recurrence of Dayton Flood

Paul E. Burnham, assistant engineer for the P. R. R. at Logansport, Ind., is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Burnham, 40 Victoria street. Speaking of the flood that swept through portions of Ohio, Pennsylvania and Indiana, several months ago, and known as the Dayton flood, Mr. Burnham said that business in Logansport, where the P. R. R. alone suffered a loss of $15,000 in buildings, tracks and equipment, has resumed almost normal conditions. Two or three bridges that were carried away by the flood have not yet been rebuilt, but are well underway. Asked if such a catastrophe might repeat itself, Mr. Burnham said: "I cannot see anything to prevent a recurrence of the flood. The bridge across the Wabash river is being supplied with three piers and it is generally conceded that two would have sufficed. The centre pier should have been eliminated and the bridge should have been raised several feet in order to admit of the great volume of water in the flood season." Mr. Burnham will leave for Logansport tomorrow.

Logansport suffered very severely from the flood and the readers of The Sun will probably recall a letter that Paul E. Burnham sent to his father when the flood was at its height and bridges and buildings were being swept

Lowell and Fall River were the opponents in a baseball game at Spaulding park this afternoon and there were present about 800 fans. Through the courtesy of Manager Gray about 200 boys from the Middlesex county training school accompanied by their band were present and had reserved seats in the grand stand. Tonic, popcorn and other refreshments were furnished them by the local managers. Previous to the game the band played several selections and they also serenaded between the innings. Empire Duffy who was scheduled to call the game here today was late in arriving and Connolly of the Fall River team and Henderson of the local team acted as the decision makers. Duffy, however, put in an appearance in the third inning. Barron, a former Lowell pitcher was in the box for Fall River while Weeden behind the bat and Reiger and Daly comprised the battery for Gray's pennant chasers.

The lineup was as follows:

SULZER IGNORES GLYNN'S DEMAND

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 15.—The beginning of the end of the dual administration in New York appeared to be in sight this afternoon.

Counsel for William Sulzer, the impeached governor, arranged a conference for this afternoon with counsel for Martin H. Glynn, lieutenant governor, who claims to be acting governor because of Sulzer's impeachment, to devise, if possible, a method by which the courts may give at least temporary title to the governorship to one or the other of the claimants.

An extraordinary session of the proper tribunal may be called at once to settle the dispute.

Under the law the case could be taken at once to the highest tribunal in the state—the court of appeals.

Sulzer Writes to Glynn

The suggestion that the controversy be submitted to the courts was contained in a letter addressed to Glynn by Sulzer. This letter was in reply to a letter sent Sulzer by Glynn formally demanding that Sulzer surrender to him the privy seal of the state, the executive chamber and others and all documents in his possession relating to the executive department.

In his reply, Sulzer declined to recognize Glynn as acting governor, refused point blank to surrender anything, announced his intention to exercise the functions of the executive, and made the suggestion to place the matter before the courts "for the purpose of preventing any unnecessary struggle."

Glynn's Letter to Sulzer

Mr. Glynn's letter is addressed to "Hon. William Sulzer, Albany, N. Y." and is signed by Mr. Glynn as acting governor, and reads as follows:

"In the performance of the duty which has devolved upon me by article 4, section 6, of the constitution, I officially demand that you deliver and surrender to me as acting governor, during the period of your constitutional disability to act as governor, the use, possession and occupancy of the executive chamber and offices, and that you likewise deliver and surrender to me the executive privy seal of the state of New York and also all books, papers, records and documents in said chamber of offices or elsewhere, in your charge, possession or custody, relating to or in any way connected with or pertaining to the executive department. The bearer hereof is authorized to receive your answer to this communication."

"Respectfully,"

(Signed) "Martin H. Glynn, Acting Governor."

Frank A. Tierney, private secretary to Mr. Glynn, went to the executive chamber with the letter from Mr. Glynn and was conducted into Mr. Sulzer's private office by William Lamborn, confidential messenger to the governor. Valentine H. Taylor, the governor's private counsel, entered the office shortly afterward.

A messenger left the governor's private office hurriedly and returned shortly thereafter, accompanied by Highway Commissioner John H. Carlisle. Mr. Carlisle left a few minutes later by a side door. Mr. Tierney remained in the governor's private office for about forty minutes.

When he entered the office he was greeted familiarly by Governor Sulzer. "I have come to present a letter from Mr. Glynn," Tierney explained. "All right," responded Mr. Sulzer, taking the proffered document and turning it over to his counsel, D-Cady Herick.

The governor gave his written reply to Mr. Tierney, remarking: "I'm glad to see you anyway, Frank."

Sulzer Note to Glynn

Governor Sulzer's letter, addressed to "Hon. Martin H. Glynn, Lieutenant Governor," reads as follows:

"Sir: Yours of August 15th demanding that I deliver and surrender to you, as acting governor, the use, possession and occupancy of the executive chamber and offices; and that I likewise deliver and surrender to you the executive privy seal of the state of New York; and also all books, papers, records and documents in said chamber of offices, or elsewhere, in my charge, possession or custody, relating to or in any way connected with or pertaining to the executive department, received."

"I decline to deliver to you the use, possession and occupancy of the executive chamber and offices, or in any way connected with or pertaining to the executive department, as requested in your letter."

"I shall continue to exercise and discharge the constitutional duties of the governor of the state of New York, first among other reasons, because I am advised that the assembly at its present extraordinary session possessed, and possess, no power or authority to prefer articles of impeachment; and second, because the lieutenant governor of the state is not authorized to act as governor in case of impeachment of the governor unless such impeachment is sustained."

"For the purpose of preventing any unnecessary struggle I suggest that counsel for the lieutenant governor, and for myself, agree on a method of submitting the question to the courts for decision; and for that purpose, that extraordinary sessions of the courts be forthwith called, in order that a speedy determination may be had."

"Respectfully,"

(Signed) "William Sulzer, Governor."

LIEUT. GOV. GLYNN MAKES FORMAL DEMAND FOR SULZER TO YACATE

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 15.—Formal demand for the surrender of the executive chamber and offices, the privy seal, and all books, papers, records and documents relating to the executive department was made upon Governor Sulzer this afternoon by the lieutenant governor, Martin H. Glynn.

Included in the governor's refusal, according to D-Cady Herick, chief of his counsel, is a proposal that Glynn and Sulzer prepare an agreed statement of the facts in the controversy and submit them to the courts to determine who is governor of New York.

MAYOR O'DONNELL ASKS STATE BOARD

Of Health to Pass on Question of Using Water Department Land for Isolation Hospital Site

Mayor O'Donnell has sent a letter to the state board of health, asking this body to inspect the land owned by the water department of the city of Lowell, and situated on the Pawtucket boulevard, as to whether it is a desirable site for the erection of a contagious hospital.

This matter was brought to the attention of the city council at a recent meeting by Commissioner Cummings, who was inclined to favor this site, and at that time it was also suggested that the state board of health be consulted on the matter, but nothing further.

MAN WHO CUT A BELT To Mend His Shoes Was Fined $20

A breezy case occupied the attention of Judge Knight at the local police court this morning and in fact it was practically all that was on the docket. The case was charged with the slitting of a strip of leather from the factory of W. J. Barry's shoe shop and through his attorney, Daniel J. Donahue, Barry pleaded not guilty to the charge. The feature of the case was Mr. Donahue's summation up for the defense.

William J. Barry and his partner both testified that the defendant had been discovered in their shop, where he worked at the time, with a strip of leather in his possession which had been cut from a fifty foot leather motor belt. Although neither saw him when the defendant actually cut the belt, both felt certain that he had done the job. When questioned about the belt the defendant told the members of the shop that he was a friend of the witness and that he had been asked to mend a pair of shoes with it. Both witnesses were directed to a right cross-examination by lawyer Donahue. The attorney brought out the fact that his client had been discharged by the firm and that $5 had been declared as his pay as payment for the strip of leather he had taken. The valuation of the strip was named as $1 in the warrant and Mr. Donahue dwelt for some time upon the fact that the two manufacturers had tried to make a $50 per cent deal with their ex-employee. He also showed that the arrest had not been made until after the defendant had refused to turn over his five feet.

Mr. Barry stated that the belt from which the leather was cut was now worthless as it could not be spliced and used for a motor. The belt, he said, was worth between $50 and $75. Mr. Donahue tried to shake this evidence but to no avail.

Inspector Walsh, who made the capture, related how he had caught the defendant and what the latter told him at the time of his arrest. The sergeant said the Ladue confessed to cutting the belt and both complainants, upon being called back to the stand, corroborated the officer's testimony.

Judge Knight ordered the defendant to pay a fine of $20. He appealed and was held in $200 for the superior court. John Barry received a six dollar fine for drunkenness and Mary McKoon was placed on parole for a like offense. There were five releases by the probation officer.

It was first produced at Palmer's theatre, New York city and there enjoyed a most successful run. In it Viola Allen, William Loring, Joseph White, William Saversham and many other artists, now stars, portrayed the roles in which Grace Young, Walter Scott, Weeks, John Charles and the other members of the popular company will be seen. It will be elaborately staged and naturally with a piece of this kind the difficulties of the company will be afforded an opportunity for fastidious criticism which is the current week's attraction, is pleasing large audiences at each performance, while the play itself also holds much interest. Seats one week in advance. Subscription list now open.

Theatre Voyons
"The Reformers or the Lost Art of Minding One's Business" is the title of the most discussed play of the month. It is shown at the Theatre Voyons today and if it is missed a real opportunity for enjoyment will be neglected. It is the story of an organization of theorists who try to make a town over according to their way of thinking irrespective of the rights and liberties of other citizens.

Municipal Band Concert
A fine band concert was given on the South common last night by the National band, R. A. Griffith, conductor. The affair was attended by over 300 people, who greatly enjoyed the music.

The attorney sent in his claim to the department of the interior for his fee but in the meantime the Indian denied having signed the paper.

KILL DEER ANYWHERE
Every County in State
Open After Nov. 17

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—Two of three finger prints on an "I. O. U." are as valuable as a formal signature, in the opinion of the United States Marine corps. In a statement forwarded to the secretary of the interior today the expert ballistics men of the corps declared that the prints of the fingers of a man who had been in the service of the United States Marine corps were as valuable as a formal signature, in the opinion of the United States Marine corps.

In order to determine the question the department submitted the memorandum for expert examination which disclosed that the prints are identical in 19 different characteristics. This is, however, the expert holds, to establish their identity. The department will now pay the fee.

Deer may be killed anywhere in the state of Massachusetts, with the exception of posted land and the Metropolitan park and water districts, during the week beginning Monday, Nov. 17. This is the first year for nearly 25 years that the entire state has been thrown open, and it is due, according to the announcement yesterday of the commissioners on fisheries and game, to the great increase in the number of deer and consequent damage to crops.

Kills the Germ That Makes the Trouble

The daily standard skin condition for 98 per cent of all diseases. SULPHOLAC cures this germ, overcomes dandruff, eczema, itching, scalp, dry and flaking conditions that stop at hair growth.

SULPHOLAC combines the benefits of sulphur with a highly potent germ destroyer. These ingredients make it a skin remedy of extraordinary value.

Easy to work into the scalp, ready taken up by the skin, this Sulpholac cures the germ that makes the trouble. Even in stubborn, aggravated cases, SULPHOLAC brings the scalp back to health, keeps it clean, soft, moist, stops falling hair and stimulates a good strong growth.

Licenses Needed
Last year only eight out of the 14 counties were open, while in 1911 only three were open. Some idea of the number of deer now inhabiting the Maine woods may be obtained from the fact that last year in the eight counties 1600 deer were killed by hunters, 250 by farmers, and the state paid George claims amounting to $1000 to farmers whose crops were damaged by the deer.

In all cases the person desiring to shoot game must first secure a license from the city or town clerk. The resident must pay $1, the non-resident $10 and the foreign born persons $15.

Seize 139 Pints of Ale
LYNN, Aug. 15.—When Sergt. Callahan led the liquor squad into the tenement of Mrs. Reelo Fullo at 11 Harbor street yesterday he had visions of seizing a small quantity of liquor, but the amount which was unearthed greatly surprised him.

Previous to entering the house the raiding squad claims that they sent a man in who purchased a bottle of ale. The search revealed 139 pints of ale, 12 empty bottles and five empty cases. Mrs. Fullo was arrested and will be charged with illegal selling and illegal keeping in the district court today.

UNVEIL MEMORIAL OF PILGRIMS

Celebration of Tercentenary of Departure of Pilgrims From Southampton, Eng. for America

SOUTHAMPTON, England, Aug. 15.—A memorial in celebration of the tercentenary of the departure of the Pilgrims from Southampton for America was unveiled here today by Walter Rines Page, the American ambassador to Great Britain. It is in the form of a column erected on the site of the pier from which the Pilgrims embarked.

The ceremonies opened with a luncheon in the pier pavilion, presided over by the mayor of Southampton. Speeches were made by Sir William W. Portal, Dr. Alexander Hall, president of Hartley university, Southampton; John Morgan Richards and Percy Alden, M. P. Members of the Alden, Winslow and Brewster families also spoke briefly. After the luncheon a procession accompanied by bands of numerous societies interested in the monument, formed and proceeded to the memorial by way of the west gate, through which the ship's company passed to the Mayflower on August 15, 1620.

A brief religious service opened the unveiling ceremonies and as an indication of the undenominational character of the occasion it was conducted by the bishop of Winchester and Rev. G. S. Saunders, minister of the Above Bar Congregational chapel, Southampton. The singing was led by the Free Church Choral Union.

Ambassador Page dedicated the monument with an oration in which he quoted James Russell Lowell's saying that the Pilgrims were only colonists who went in search of God instead of gold. He continued:

"They had not been kindly enough treated in England to make life tolerable to them, but still they wished to be English subjects. The blood, the institutions of the family, the loyalty and the trick of supremacy in the breed were theirs and should always be theirs. In all the combinations of the races of men and in all the workings of circumstances no other fusion of great forces was ever so nearly invincible."

Freedom of Opinion

The ambassador went on to say that freedom to worship had led straight to the republican form of government, and the democratic structure of the society on the Mayflower carried the seeds of all republican institutions, including even the seeds of recurring intolerance. The same, linking with destiny, took the form of freedom of opinion on all subjects. Mr. Page contended that the American of today was as strong a believer in his great destiny as were the pilgrims of old. Puritan and Cavalier, he said, still preserve something of their differences in the new world, thus giving a good balance and variety to life there. He concluded:

"This monument is one of the pillars of hope of mankind. The sons of those men whose immortal achievement commemorates are drawn nearer to you by this tribute to their fathers. And they give you their reverent thanks today and this is their message. The old impulse of our destiny which led the race to whatever new form it may have taken with the changing years is not yet spent. The high, grim spirit of the Pilgrim still lives."

After the memorial proper had been unveiled by the ambassador the representatives of the donors unveiled the

various panels which surround the base of the monument.

The cost of the monument was defrayed from public subscriptions in the United States and England, and the bronze panels were donated by various pilgrim societies and the descendants of pilgrim families. It is located on the pier beyond the west gate, through which the Pilgrims passed on their way to the Mayflower. This spot was famous long before the time of the Pilgrim fathers, for tradition asserts that King Canute sat there when he ordered the sea to retreat, and from this pier Shakespeare, who knew Southampton well, through his visits to the Earl of Southampton, made the armies of Henry V. embark for their triumphant invasion of France.

Affected by California
Alien Land Law

TOKIO, Aug. 15.—It is announced here that the United States has indicated her readiness to favor in principle the payment of an indemnity to Japanese subjects who have been affected by the California alien land ownership legislation and also has recognized the right of Japanese to adopt a measure similar to the California bill.

From intimations given in official circles it appears unlikely that Japan will adopt either idea. It is said that what she desires is permanent friendly relations with the United States and, therefore, she seeks a fundamental solution of the difficulty. If the United States has no solution of the difficulty to offer, it is stated Japan probably will allow the matter to remain as a grievance.

The public feeling of humiliation in this connection continues to be fanned by inflammatory comments in the newspapers. The Hoshi Shimbun, which is often sensational, urges as an object lesson to the United States the expulsion of American missionaries from Korea on the ground that they are undesirable aliens.

FIRE BURNED ITSELF OUT

$150,000 Damage by Blaze at Woodstock

NORTH WOODSTOCK, N. H., Aug. 15.—A survey of the ruins in the path of the fire that burned over the north end of Woodstock last night placed the loss today at a total of approximately $150,000. Four business buildings, and twelve houses and a large amount of lumber owned by the Woodstock Lumber company, were destroyed. The fire which is supposed to have started from sparks from a locomotive engine, burned itself out early today. The flames were driven by the wind which, fortunately, blew away from the center of the town. Many guests from the Mountain View House and other hotels in this vicinity visited the scene of the fire today.

MATRIMONIAL

At the parsonage of Rev. N. W. Matthews, pastor of the First Primitive Methodist church last night, the marriage of Arthur M. Abbott and Miss Catharine J. Dean was solemnized. The couple were attended by Miss May Walters and William Rogers.

GALVIN—EMERSON

A very pretty wedding took place last night at the Sacred Heart rectory when Rev. Fr. Smith, O. M. I. united in marriage Miss Frances T. Emerson of Carter street and Mr. Lawrence L. Galvin of Lawrence street, both of this city. The bride's sister, Miss Edith, was bridesmaid and Mr. John A. Crowley was best man.

After the marriage ceremony had been performed the bridal party repaired to the home of the bride where an informal reception was tendered to the members of each family and a few intimate friends of the couple. Mr. and Mrs. Galvin have started on an extended tour of the White Mountains and will take up their residence here about October 1st.

ANDERSON—FARMER

William T. Anderson and Miss Rose Farmer were married yesterday afternoon, the ceremony being performed by Rev. N. W. Matthews at his home, 15 Elmwood street. The witnesses were Miss Jane Cowell and John F. Luther. The bride, living at 84 Suffolk street, received a bad laceration of the wrist yesterday afternoon, when his arm was caught in a machine at the Hamilton Mfg. Co., where he is employed. He was removed to the Lowell hospital in the ambulance.

OFFICIAL RETURNS

Of Third District Congressional Primary in Maine Have Been Canvassed and Will Be Reported to Governor

AUGUSTA, Maine, Aug. 15.—Official returns of the third district congressional primary, held on July 28, at which William R. Pattangall of Waterville and John A. Peters of Ellsworth were nominated, respectively, as democratic and republican candidates at the special election on September 8 to choose a successor to the late Representative Forrest Goodwin, have been canvassed and will be reported to the governor and council next Friday.

Mr. Pattangall received a plurality of 2132 over former Congressman Samuel W. Gould of Skowhegan and Mr. Peters had 2041 more votes than were cast for Roy Haines of Ellsworth, his opponent for the republican nomination. The name of the progressive candidate, Edward M. Lawrence of Lubec, will appear on the ballot by petition. The total votes were as follows: Pattangall, 5071; Gould, 2939; Peters, 3112; Haines, 1011.

VISITING IN LOWELL

Rev. Sister Marie Jerome of the Jesu Marie community of Tampa, Fla., is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Oliver J. David of 225 Ludlum street. She was accompanied to Lowell by Rev. Sister Marie Cecilius, of the same community, but who is stationed at Albany N. Y.

The two nuns are former Lowell girls, the former is Miss Dina Landry, while the latter is Miss Marie Louise Casse, daughter of Mr. P. W. Casse.

Mr. Miss Landry has not been in Lowell since 12 years ago, having joined the order about 22 years ago, while Miss Casse's last visit to this city was about two years ago at the time of her mother's death.

The two visitors will remain in Lowell one week, during which time they will be pleased to renew old acquaintances.

SOUTH HAMPTON, N. Y., Aug. 15.—In the semi-final round of tennis singles for the Meadow club cup today, Gustav F. Touchard, New York, defeated Carl H. Behr, New York, 6-3, 6-4, 7-5.

The Voting Machine
Two representatives of the American Voting Machine company were at city hall this forenoon with a specimen of their invention, and gave a demonstration of the workings of the machine before the members of the municipal council.

The apparatus is quite a piece of machinery, working on the same principles as an adding machine, while errors are impossible. Another feature with the machine is that as soon as the last man has cast his vote, the result of the election is ready to be given out, for the votes are automatically counted as cast.

LOCAL POLICE SEARCH FOR BURGLARS

The local police received a bad jolt last night when a patrol of officers and patrolmen broke themselves in the "Black Maria" to the Highlands in search of a burglar, or rather, an alleged burglar. A telephone call brought the night captain to his feet with orders for a detachment. The message over the wire announced that a house opposite the sender was showing a light and that the owner was at present away for the summer.

This, of course, convinced the amateur sleuth that a break was in progress. The police arrived on the scene with all due haste but found that the whole expedition was a failure, that is from a police viewpoint. The light was there all right but also was the owner of the house and the police returned to the station in disgust.

COMES TO THANK UNITED STATES

BUENOS AYRES, Argentine, Aug. 15.—Senator Don Villanueva, the head of the special mission to Washington to thank the United States government for its participation in Argentina's centennial celebration, will leave here at the end of September. He will travel by way of Chile and will visit the Panama canal before going to Washington. Afterward he will go as special envoy to the Asiatic nations.

PATIENT FATALLY BEATEN IN ASYLUM

WORCESTER, Mass., Aug. 15.—Mrs. Ida Crane, an inmate of the Worcester state hospital for the insane, who was committed from Dalton, was fatally beaten by another patient Tuesday. She died the following day.

The death of Mrs. Crane, who was 61 years of age, was made known by the authorities of the asylum today but they refused to disclose the identity of her assailant. Assistant Medical Examiner E. N. Hunt held an autopsy and found that death was due to a fracture of the skull. The jawbone also was broken. It was said that Mrs. Crane was seated in a hallway where an insane woman was mopping the floor. The latter suddenly attacked her with the mop handle, striking her over the head and face.

SUMMER HOTEL DESTROYED

BOOTHBAY HARBOR, Me., Aug. 15.—The Samoset House, a large summer hotel on Moose Island, was destroyed by fire which broke out shortly after noon. FIND BODY OF MAN IN STALL

WOODSTOCK, Conn., Aug. 15.—Circumstances surrounding the death of Jonas Lawson, whose body was found lying in a stall in his stable this morning with his head crushed, are the subject of an investigation being conducted by State Coroner W. G. Bill. Dr. J. S. Spaulding, the medical examiner, who performed an autopsy on the body, and Coroner Bill, both decline to discuss the case.

Lawson left the house to go to the stable and care for a sick horse. When he failed to return his wife became alarmed and went in search of him. She found his body in the barn and the horse running around loose.

Values vs. Bargains

The P. & Q. shop deals in values.

According to current advertising in the newspapers, most other clothiers in town are dealing in bargains. There's a difference.

P. & Q. suits would be a bargain at $20 to $25—but they never cost you more than $10 or $15 at any time of the year. When we opened these doors for the first time, we marked our prices down to exactly the figure that other clothiers are now marking on clothes of no greater value, which they have been selling from $5 to $10 more.

Do not be misled into buying something you don't want simply because it's cheap. $10 and $15 is all you need to pay for a first class, fine fitting, beautifully tailored, brand new summer suit. You can get it here in almost any style you choose. You are letting money slip through your fingers by not buying your clothes from the P. & Q. Shop.

$1,500,000 CLAIM AGAINST R. R.

Judge Hammond of the Supreme Judicial Court Hears the Arguments of Demurrer for N.E.R.R.

BOSTON, Aug. 15.—Judge Hammond of the supreme judicial court today heard arguments on the demurrer of the Southern New England Railroad company to a bill in equity brought against it by John Marsh who seeks to establish a claim against the company for $1,500,000, arising out of the alleged breach of contract. Marsh was represented by Sherman I. Whipple and the Southern New England by C. A. Hight. At the close of the arguments Judge Hammond said that in view of the importance of the questions raised he would reserve his decision.

Mr. Hight pointed out what he claimed were inconsistencies in the bill of the plaintiff, and contended that a court of equity could not take jurisdiction of the allegations set out in the bill. It was an attempt, he said, to join a general creditors' bill with another bill brought by a single creditor of the Southern New England to reach and apply funds in the hands of other parties belonging to the Southern New England. The first part of Marsh's bill, said Mr. Hight, was merely a statement of what constituted an action at law, and it was only in the closing paragraphs of the bill that there was any suggestion of equitable relief.

Right to Suspend Work

Mr. Hight then called the attention of the court to paragraph seven of the contract entered into by Mr. Marsh and the Southern New England company. That paragraph reserved to the Southern New England company the right to suspend the work, or any part of the same, for such length of time and as often as the company might require. Under that contract the Southern New England had recently ordered Marsh to resume work, but he has refused to do so until he is paid a certain amount of money. At this point Mr. Whipple interrupted Mr. Hight by saying that the order to Marsh to resume work was not given until after the federal grand jury at New York had returned indictments against President Mellen of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad company, and President Chamberlin of the Grand Trunk for entering into an unlawful traffic agreement.

In continuing his argument Mr. Hight dwelt upon what he contended were inconsistencies in Marsh's bill and said if the bill was based on the ground that Marsh had a claim against the Grand Trunk then the Grand Trunk and the Central Vermont must be made parties. Unless these two companies were joined the bill as it now stood was fatally defective.

Mr. Whipple claimed that the bill before the court was that of general creditors. In addition to the claim of Marsh for about $1,500,000, there were others whose claims approximately amounted to about $2,000,000. If Marsh were allowed through a receiver to bring suits against the Grand Trunk and the Central Vermont roads under their agreements to finance the Southern New England enterprise there would be funds sufficient to pay all creditors in full. The obligation of the Grand Trunk and the Central Vermont was in existence, although it could not be described in exact terms. When Marsh was invited to bid for building the roadbed of the Southern New England he was told by officials of the Grand Trunk that that company was behind the construction of the Southern New England line. Mr. Whipple said he did not think that either the Grand Trunk or the Central Vermont or both, were necessary parties to the present bill as in case the court should overrule the demurrer and take jurisdiction of Marsh's bill both the Grand Trunk and the Central Vermont could be reached by a receiver.

Haverhill Judge Says Suspended Sentences Bring No Reform—New Court Rule

HAVERHILL, Aug. 15.—The court finds that in the cases of persons against whom fines have been imposed, it is against public interests to suspend the sentences. The new ruling which Judge Cavan handed down in the district court session yesterday morning when he declined to suspend sentences in the cases of drunkenness offenders who have been in court so many times that suspensions of sentences have worked no reformations.

It was a big gist, an unusual one, that the court found waiting for him and there was a variety of cases too. After imposing sentences Judge Cavan made his ruling that he found it to be against public policy to suspend sentences this being the first time that such a stand has been taken by any local justice and it was a direct statement to the effect that the court could see no advantage to be gained by suspensions.

MANY SLEEP IN MOTOR BOATS

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 15.—Unique schemes have been adopted by many residents of this city to obtain sleep during the hot nights which have prevailed for more than two weeks. Scores of wealthy families on the south side at night start for the country in their motor cars. When they come to an elevated spot where the prospect of a breeze seems good they get out, make their beds in the open and sleep there until driven back home by hot rays of the morning sun.

Bert Goins, swimming instructor of the Kansas City Yacht club, said today that he sleeps with a damp blanket over him. "I am always in the water and don't take cold, but I would not advise anyone else to adopt my plan," he said.

Many persons sleep in motor boats on the Missouri river where the air is cool after dark.

LOLA NORRIS ON STAND

Testifies in Diggs White Slave Case

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 15.—Lola Norris, who followed Marsha Warrington on the stand yesterday in the trial of Maury I. Diggs, charged with violation of the Mann white slave act, was the first witness called today. She resumed the story that was related with such a mass of detail by her companion in trouble.

Only in the manner of its delivery did the testimony of Miss Norris differ from that of the other girl. Her answers were sharper, more spirited than those of her companion. She was able to supplement nothing to the narrative of the Warrington girl. She could only confirm statements and descriptions of events already described. Step by step she went over the flight to Reno and Marsha Warrington had made with Diggs and Drew Cammick. When her cross-examination began she retained her composure, answering the searching question of the defense evenly and without hesitation. Throughout she clung to her original story.

In accordance with the announcement of Judge Van Fleet the case was to be adjourned at the close of the afternoon hearing until next Tuesday morning. It is probable that the defense will then begin the presentation of its case.

When Thomas P. To reciprocate "Tom" invited the bunch to spend a day with him at his cozy and hospitable camp on the shores of Long-Sought-For pond and yesterday was the day. A party of about 25 were in attendance, using Conway's big auto truck and private autos to reach the pond. Upon arrival a dainty buffet lunch was served by Henry Bros., who later in the day provided a sumptuous dinner, and corn roast. Prof. Denton Landry presided over the commissary department. An

A long list of sports was run off for which watch fobs were distributed as prizes. A red hot ball game was played on an imaginary ball ground and there were quail games, boxing, wrestling, tug-of-war and a host of out-door sports. Among the guests was Capt. Matt. Downs of the Brick tavern, who on Aug. 23 will observe his 58th birthday anniversary. Aside from a little rheumatism, Capt. Downs "is just as young as he used to be," and he reported that his estimable wife, to whom he has been married almost 61 years, is also enjoying good health. Another guest was Police Inspector Thomas Kenefick of the Boston police department, who is the guest of Mr. John P. Hall at the latter's summer cottage at Long-Sought-For. After witnessing a most magnificent sunset, the party returned to Lowell in the evening load in their praises of the hospitality of Mine Host Hoban.

SULZER'S IMPEACHMENT

Governor Sulzer enjoys the unique and unenviable distinction of being the first chief executive of the state of New York against whom impeachment proceedings have been brought. His plight is pitiable. Even though the charges will not be sustained eventually he has reached his political Waterloo. He defied Tammany, rashly perhaps, and he now reaps the consequences of his defiance. The shield of honor which he held up against the poisoned darts of political hostility was defective and the darts have found a mark. It may possibly be that a vital part has not been pierced, but he will never quite recover from the wound. A great self-alleged champion of the people has fallen.

The charges brought against the governor are serious indeed. The flagrant misuse of campaign funds and the making of false returns under the corrupt practices act are both offenses for which he can be punished by the courts of the state. When the charges also include the open trading of political patronage and shady use of the executive power in securing desired legislation, there is a misdeed charged against which many will rebel more than against the charge of open dishonesty. In a governor of a state anything that savors of gross and unabashed political corruption is absolutely repellant to all feelings of right and probity. He will have a fair share of public sympathy but the charges are too serious and the evidence is too strong to admit of public sympathy coming between him and the consequences of his reprehensible folly.

The way of Sulzer has been anything but smooth of late. He apparently was sincere in his war on the New York stock exchange and in this way aroused a great deal of hostility in financial circles. He openly threw down the gauntlet to Tammany and aroused a storm of political hostility. But so fierce and relentless was the persecution to which he was subjected that the people were being gradually drawn to his side in a desire to see fair play. As a clever opportunist he was turning all opposing elements to his advantage when the charges of corruption of the grossest nature came to turn away the sympathy of the public. Nothing he has ever said or done or suffered can now shield him. He must face a fair and impartial tribunal and have his record examined in the open. He will be fortunate indeed if he is still governor of New York state when the ordeal is over. If he is innocent he ought to welcome the deepest investigation, for the accusations are the kind that will not die unless he is acquitted by the senate of the state. Even should he be removed, all that is manly in him should welcome deserved defeat rather than a continuance in office under false pretences.

The plight of Sulzer is not without its lessons for all who hold political office or aspire to it. Had he kept free from personal dishonor he could openly defy all the political bosses of the country. He would be forgiven for failure in carrying out some of his reform schemes or grave mistakes made sincerely. But he gave political enemies a power over him which they could use only too well to his disadvantage and ruin. Honesty is surely the best policy for the governor of a state as well as the grocery store clerk.

Thus far Sulzer's defence has been extremely weak. His denial was slow in coming in the first instance and when it did come it was not satisfactory. But still more weak and inadequate is the claim of his wife that the blame must be laid to her door. The sympathy of the country goes out to her in her evident desire to shield her husband but it is not a case to be settled by the words or tears of a devoted woman. Even the enemies of Sulzer, the governor, may find something to admire in Sulzer, the man, eventually, but as yet it is being kept under a bushel. A great political and moral drama is being played. The state of New York is the theatre and the people of the entire country are the audience. We are all anxious for the curtain to rise.

BACK TO THE LAND

According to Secretary Wheeler of the state board of agriculture, there are fully 5,000,000 acres of waste land in this state which, if brought under cultivation, would produce all the food necessary for the maintenance of the inhabitants. One traveling in Massachusetts will be convinced of the truth of his statement. On the whole, farms are few and far between; there is no sign of cultivation for miles in many places. Between the small and comparatively few farms stretch acres of swamp and tangled wood. Much of this land could not, of course, be made productive by any degree of cultivation, but there are thousands of fertile acres where underbrush and rank vegetation flourish, which, were they converted into farms, would give rich returns in crops for the labor expended in reclaiming them. Considering this fact it is regrettable that thousands will voluntarily congregate in congested sections of crowded cities, breathing impure air and eking out a miserable existence. The tendency of men is to huddle together in communities. Towns and cities offer an attraction to most that not all the freedom and rural charm of farm life can supply. This is surprising indeed, particularly in the case of some foreign peoples who come here from the farms of their respective countries and crowd into the mills and factories. Considering this, we can understand the country wide movements which aim at stirring up a taste for country life in people who seem to have gone far from the lives and aims of their fathers.

The work of farming is difficult, it is true, and the returns are small. But, if we are to believe the statements given out of late in the great textile strikes of this region, thousands who work in the teeming mills barely make enough to feed and clothe them. They could surely do this on farms and there is no comparison between country life and the city life that they are forced to live. But the argument is not all in favor of the farm; our New England winters take away some of the charm as well as the profit, and facilities for getting crops to market are not good. With railroad and trolley improvements and education of the masses on the possibilities that surround them we may eventually expect a "back to the land" desire in the hearts of hundreds who now barely exist in cities.

A great many people labor under the delusion that the recent investigations for the purpose of establishing the possible connection between low wages and vice resulted in a lowering of the reputation of working girls as a class, in public estimation. Even in the ranks of the girls themselves there was open hostility to what they claimed was an allegation that only by getting a certain weekly wage could a girl keep from dishonor and sin. Some people worked themselves up into a virtuous indignation at the results of the sensational inquiries and declared that those who were so misguided in their zeal as to try to establish a minimum wage for working girls were not keeping the best interests of the girls to the forefront. There is something to be said in favor of this side of the question but it examined without haste or excitement it will be seen that the so-called vice investigations did not, and could not in the slightest degree, lower the character of working girls as a class.

The morals of a woman do not depend on her wages. There have been queens who have shocked the world by the grossest immorality and there have been girls whose natures blossomed like a stainless lily in surroundings of poverty and crime. Attempts to establish a minimum wage may have been amateur and in some cases ill judged, but they were not injurious. They resulted in the fact at least that in cities like Chicago and New York one cannot live a normal life without having a certain sum of money to spend weekly, and that many, a great many unfortunately, do not get that sum. Are we to assume then that all of those girls who do not get a living wage are adding to their incomes by walking the road of shame? Certainly not. But there are hundreds and thousands living who do not live real lives. They are hedged around by poverty and the walls of unfulfilled desire. It is crude and unromantic to suppose that a two dollar or a five dollar bill weekly is the bridge that will lead them to Arcady across the river of indigence, but in many cases it is too true. This bridge many cannot find. Is it surprising that some take the "easiest way" of finding it?

DESERVED COMMENDATION

At the large outing of the Lowell board of trade at the great railroad repair shops in North Billerica yesterday, Congressman Rogers, F. K. Irwin, the special engineer in charge of the work, Mayor O'Donnell, and other speakers prefaced their remarks by congratulating the body in general and President George M. Harrington in particular for the spirit of untiring activity that resulted in the choice of the site for the railroad shops. This commendation and congratulation was richly deserved. If, as Congressman Rogers said, the Lowell board of trade had dissolved after having succeeded in bringing the repair shops to our immediate vicinity, it would have justified its existence. The great plan is a practical and enduring illustration of the power of civic spirit when directed by brains and energy and actuated by lofty and unselfish motives.

It's the loneliest house you ever saw
This big gray house where I stay—
I don't call it livin' at all, at all—
Since my mother went away.

Four long weeks ago, an' it seems a year,
'Gone home,' so the preacher said,
An' I ache in my breast with wantin'
her,
An' my eyes are always red.

I stay out of doors till I'm almost froze
'Cause every corner and room
Seems empty enough to frighten a boy,
An' filled to the doors with gloom.

I hate them to call me to my meals,
Sometimes I think I can't bear
To swallow a mouthful of anything,
An' her not sittin' up there.

A-pourin' the tea an' passin' the
things,
An' laughin' to see me take
Two big lumps of sugar instead of one,
An' more than my share of cake.

There's no one to go to when things
go wrong;
She was always so safe and sure,
Why there's not a trouble could tackle
A boy.

I'm too big to be kissed, I used to say,
But somehow I don't feel right
Crawlin' into bed as still as a mouse—
Nobody sayin' good-night—

An' tuckin' the clothes up under my
chin,
An' pushin' my hair back, so,
Thinkin' a boy made fun of before his girl,
But thinkin' that he likes you know.

I can't make it out for the life of me,
Why she should have to go away,
An' her boy left here in this old gray
house,
A-makin' an' wantin' her so.

There are lots of women, it seems to
me,
That wouldn't be missed so much—
Women whose boys are all grown up,
An' old maid aunts, an' such.

I tell you, the loneliest thing
In this great world today
Is a boy of ten whose heart is broke
'Cause his mother is gone away.

Men like to talk as well as women do, but they want pay for it.

Some wives really believe that they have faith in their husbands.

He was a very good looking and entertaining young man, and consequently a social favorite.

He was being invited to dinner and as is often the case the thought bored him.

"Went you dine with us on Monday evening?" the would-be hostess asked sweetly.

"Monday evening," he reiterated
slowly and thoughtfully. "I am very sorry but I am afraid I can't make it for Monday evening."

"Then Tuesday evening? How will
that be?"

"Nor can I make it Tuesday evening.

EDUCATION NOTES

Enlisted men in the American navy
serve as teachers in the island of Guam.

Teachers in the Province of Ontario receive a subsidy of $30 per year if
they maintain a school garden.

A co-operative egg-selling association, with the schoolhouse as the place
for gathering eggs, has been formed to bring them in, and the teacher to supervise the sales, is suggested by W.
J. Shuford, of Hickory, N. C.

Of 1100 cases of removal from
the country to city, personally investigated by T. J. Coates, supervisor
of rural schools in Kentucky, more than 1000 were caused by a desire for better school, church, and social advantages.

Marked progress in Alabama high school is reported to the United States
bureau of education. In 1908 there were 50 high schools, few of them with courses of more than three years in length; now there are 132 institutions
doing high school work, all but 14 of which have full four-year courses.

That the country church can and
ought to lead in the campaign for better elementary public schools, for larger school revenues, for more enlightened ideals of school efficiency, for
larger enrollment, better attendance,
and less illiteracy in the rural regions,
is declared in resolutions recently adopted by a conference on the country church.

Agricultural engineering is becoming a highly important subject in the agriculture of colleges, according to figures compiled by F. B. Jenks of the United States bureau of education. Twenty of the state colleges now give specific instruction in this subject for prospective farmers. The State Agricultural college of Utah has a four-year
course in agricultural engineering and Pennsylvania state college gives a course in industrial engineering, which includes farm engineering.

"Rural illiteracy in the south is largely the result of an economic condition and will not disappear until this
economic condition changes," declares
L. C. Branson of the State Normal school at Athens, Ga. "They say in the south that it takes 12 months of the year to raise, pick, and market a crop of cotton. Children are useful
and in demand throughout the year.
The children of the tenant farmer do
not have to go to school—or so the
tenant commonly believes."

KICKED AND BEAT HIM

Theatre Man Attacked
by Rowdies

BOSTON, Aug. 15.—The early arrival
of Special Officer Rich of the Everett police and Nathan Brown, a motien
picture theatre proprietor, saved Allan
Woodward of 115 Hancock street,
Everett, from being seriously injured
last night by a crowd of 30 men known
as the Lynde street gang.

Woodward who is 20 years old, is an actor in a moving picture theatre on Broadway, Everett. Because of the actions of the Lynde street gang in the theatre last evening, Woodward was forced to call Special Officer Rich to effect the men.

The latter hid in a sheltered spot
until after the theatre had closed and
when Woodward was passing them on
his way home they jumped upon him
and kicked and beat him until he was badly bruised about the head and body.

TALK OF RECONCILIATION

In the Wakefield Divorce
Suit

BOSTON, Aug. 15.—The publication of the news of the filing of divorce proceedings against Cyrus Wakefield, son of the founder of the town bearing that name, by Mrs. Wakefield, has caused a sensation among the many friends of the couple, and they do say in the town that a reconciliation may follow the statement of the husband to a reporter last night that "there must be some mistake."

It was said last night that Mr. Wakefield had left the town, presumably for Sashabaw, N. H. It was also said that he took this course in order to avoid any publicity, but it is believed that his real destination is Kennebunkport, Me., where Mrs. Wakefield is now stopping with friends, and that he goes there to ask of his wife an explanation of her action in filing the suit. If this course is followed by Mr. Wakefield, it is not unlikely that a reconciliation may be the result.

First Message From Knowles, "Cave Man"

the first message from Joseph Knowles, the Boston artist, who is making a scientific test of his theory that he can live for two months, buried in the for-

A furor was caused in the camp
when the guide who went to the cache
where Knowles was to leave his messages written with charcoal on birch-bark, returned hearing with him
Knowles' first communication.
"He's All Right," Says Guide
"He's all right, boys," shouted the
guide, waving aloft the message to
the friends that met him.
The message was brief. It had evidently been indicated with a great deal of difficulty. The characters were hard
to make out in some instances for it
had evidently been in the cache for several hours and a shower had wet
it. But the main point it contained
was that Knowles, physically, was in good shape. He had not yet secured any bodily covering when the message was written, and was as naked
as when he entered the forest without
food or clothing or any kind of implement to aid him in securing them.
More messages are expected, however, which will relate more fully just
how he has protected himself from the
onslaught of the insects which infest
the wilderness at this time of year.
Knowles said in his message that he
was somewhat scratched up from the thistles and rough underbrush and
these wounds annoyed him.

BELIEVES IN WILSON'S POLICIES

Long Makes Statement — Foss Tells Benton Why Governor of Bay State Should be Nominee

BOSTON, Aug. 15.—Governor Foss yesterday afternoon and evening convinced the colonel that Eugene N. Foss should be the republican nominee for governor. The governor invited the colonel to visit him at his summer home at Cohasset and upon meeting with a startled refusal pulled the colonel over to a window in the City club and talked to him.

The Foss-Benton conference put the finishing touch to the politics of the past few days. It was a climax to the conferences between the governor and Senator Crane, the governor and Chairman Hatfield of the republican state committee and the governor and Colonel Augustus Goettlieb, republican candidate for lieutenant-governor.

The occasion was the testimonial luncheon given to Governor Samuel M. Hanson of Indiana and Thomas Taggart, one of the national leaders of the democratic party, also of Indiana.

"DOVE OF PEACE" SEAL

Attached to Treaties by Sec. Bryan

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—Although now masquerading as Secretary Bryan's "dove of peace" seal which is being attached to peace treaties with other nations, it developed today that the design copied from an ancient coin, really represents the war eagle and not a cooing dove. In addition the design includes the figure of the war God Zeus, who is seated on a throne with a scepter or "big stick" in his powerful clasp. Secretary Bryan had adopted the seal as emblematic of his desire for world unity.

The revelation was made in a letter to the secretary from Sir Cecil Arthur Spring-Rice, British ambassador to this country, who made inquire of the British museum. There it was found that the coin, which Secretary Bryan picked up in Palestine while on a trip around the world, was of the time of Alexander The Great. On the other side from that bearing the bird which Secretary Bryan adopted is a head of Hercules, famous Greek hero of mighty deeds.

In addition to the officials seal of state it has been customary for secretaries of state when signing treaties to use also a personal seal. When Secretary Bryan learned of this custom he had a seal made from the coin.

leth 532, describing the Koyukuk-Chandalar region, by A. G. Maddren.

In 1899 F. C. Schrader, geologist, and T. C. Gardine, topographer, carried a reconnaissance survey through the Chandalar and Koyukuk basins, in northern Alaska. This was the first investigation of the mineral resources north of the Yukon. The time was well chosen, for it was in 1899 that the first important discoveries of placer gold were made in the Koyukuk district, though there had been some mining on the river bars during the previous decade. Since 1899 the Koyukuk has produced gold to the value of about $2,500,000. Some promising gold-bearing veins have also been found in the Chandalar region.

This reconnaissance was followed by two other survey expeditions, the men plunging into the wilderness as early in the summer as conditions permitted with a season's supplies, traveling with canoes along the larger streams, and ascending the rivers to points where it was impossible to even wade and drag the boats along, and then carrying across to some other river and paddling downstream. Bulletin 532 is a continuation of the results of these earlier surveys with the author's more recent investigations.

The Koyukuk-Chandalar region includes the drainage basins of upper Koyukuk river and Chandalar river, both tributary to the Yukon from the north. The report deals in particular with that part of the region in which gold placers have been developed but includes a general description of the geography and geology of the whole region. The placer districts lie well within the southern ranges of the mountain system that forms the Yukon-Alaska divide across northern Alaska and are noteworthy as constituting one of the most northerly gold-mining regions in the world.

A copy of the report may be obtained free on application to the director of the geological survey, Washington, D. C.

TENNIS COURTS

For the Greenhalge School Playground Furnished by Supt. Kernan—Swimming Pool at Shedd Park

Supt. J. W. Kernan of the park department has donated tennis courts for the Greenhalge school playground, and the same will be installed in a short time. Next season Mr. Kernan hopes to have the hard dirt court instead of the grass court, which will make this sport much better.

He is also planning to install a court and swimming pool at the Shedd park, the cost of which never will not be over $100. On account of the firemen's muster which will be held on the North common Aug. 25, it may be necessary to have the closing exercises of the playgrounds on the 27 of this month for it would be quite impossible for the children to make use of the playgrounds there after many tons of water have been squirted on them. The other playgrounds will close presumably on the 29th.

DOUGH MIXERS

Took a Much "Kneaded" Outing—Had a Good Laugh, Took a Turnover in the Water and Had a Barrel of Fun.

It was a merry bunch of dough mixers and teamsters that arrived in Merrimack square shortly after 9 o'clock last night after spending a day at Beverly beach. The occasion was the annual outing of the employees of Friend Brothers' bakery and the 75 who attended enjoyed themselves every minute of the day.

Leaving this city on a special car about 8:15 o'clock in the morning they arrived at the beach about two hours before noon and a tour of the amusement places was made. Bathing was next enjoyed and then the bakers went to one of the hotels for dinner. The afternoon was spent on the beach and in the different entertainment houses and at 7:15 o'clock all boarded the special car for the ride home. The affair was voted a big success.

INTO RIVER TO

ESCAPE FIRE

Woodstock, N. H., Residents Forced to Flee From Flames

Lumber Plant, Score of Buildings and Post Office Destroyed

LINCOLN, N. H., Aug. 15.—Fire swept through the countryside at Woodstock yesterday and last night, practically destroying the plant of the Woodstock Lumber company with millions of feet of prepared lumber and burning down a score of buildings, including 15 houses.

Many persons in these dwelling houses saved their lives only by fleeing the Pemigewasset River, which the flames crossed behind them. So far as could be learned at a late hour last night, no one was injured seriously.

The postoffice was destroyed, but the mail was saved by the heroism of Postmaster Arthur Kinsman, who carried blazing mail sacks over his shoulders to safety.

A box shop, blacksmith shop and stables were among the other buildings burned.

The flames burned out the telephone service, crippled telephone wires, blocked roads and bridges—threatening to burn out the latter—and the town was almost isolated from the outside world. There were no fire-fighting facilities at hand, and lack of communication hindered securing outside help. The walls of fire led to reports of more extensive damage, but late last night the estimate had come down considerably and varied from $100,000 to $150,000.

COMPLIMENTARY RACE

Close of N. Y. Yacht Club's Visit

PRIZES OF CHOICE OLD SILVER FOR WINNERS

New Fifty-Footers of the New York Fleet Participate—Commodore Pratt Fired Disbandment Gun

MARBLEHEAD, Mass., Aug. 15.—The activities attending the visit of the New York Yacht club to Massachusetts bay were brought to a close today with a complimentary race to the new fifty-footers of the New York fleet by the Eastern Yacht club. Captain S. Reed Anthony, a member of both organizations, furnishing the prizes of choice old silver. Two hours before the club sailed left the harbor Commodore Pratt fired the disbandment gun from the flagship Sea Fox ending the cruise of the New York Yacht club for 1913.

The Eastern club planned several courses for the flutes dependent upon the direction of the breeze, each of the courses averaging thirty miles.

The New York fifty-footer class of one design knockabout sloops has furnished the yachting sensation of the season in big yacht racing, and as they are all built under the rules which it is expected will obtain in the America's cup yacht next year, the fleet has been watched with more than ordinary interest.

Vice Commodore George F. Baker, Jr., is the originator of the class and through his enthusiastic energy, many of these yachts were built at Bristol last winter and spring at a cost, it is said, of $14,300 each. The yachts are about fifty feet on the water line and a trifle over 11 feet over-all, and rate as 43 tonners. It was originally planned to make them 46 feet on the water line, but it was subsequently extended to 50 feet in order that they might compete for the King's cup. The Spartan won the eighth race for that trophy a week ago. It is said the flutes are the last word in a racing yacht by the famous Bristol designer.

The nine boats are as much alike as a school of herring, and but for the fact that two of them, the Greek and the Spartan, are painted black, it would be difficult to distinguish one from the other at any distance. As it is, their numbers and private signals are the only marks of identification under sail, while at anchor one has to look for the name in the stern.

Their rig is extremely tall, but in this respect as well as in the knot about aspect, Herreshoff has followed Over, the designer of the fast knockabouts Dorella I. and Dorella II. The form of the vessels of the class is fine, but the stern overhang is very short, giving them a bobtail appearance.

As a whole they are regarded as representing the change from the long-ended boats which reached their limit in the Bellanca, to the new compact and more easily handled yacht, a design which is now accepted by the Gloucester fishermen as producing the safest and most practically seaworthy type of boat. Their only fault is their inability to keep still while at anchor with main sail set. The yachts are scheduled to sail 42 races this season.

Under the rules covering the class, only amateurs can handle the boats, although each has several foremast hands and a professional skipper, who looks after the sails and sheets and has charge of the yacht while at anchor. It is hoped that the fleet will develop some good helmsmen of sufficient ability to handle a cup defender next year.

The regular meeting of Highland council, 278, R. A. was held last night in Highland hall with a large number of members present. During the evening there were remarks by Warden Jones, Past Regent Maynard and others. Refreshments were served and a social hour enjoyed by all.

RAID IN PROVIDENCE REPRIMANDED BY WILSON

$7000 Worth of Opium Seized by Officers Ambassador to Mexico Guilty of Impropriety

PROVIDENCE, Aug. 15.—The second big opium raid here within six months by federal government officers from Boston startled Chinatown yesterday and incidentally the local police.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—President Wilson last night publicly reprimanded Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson for his recent attack on the British foreign office. Ambassador Page was instructed to express to Sir Edward Grey the regret of the American government that a diplomatic official of the United States "should have been guilty of such an impropriety."

MILL OWNER'S SON HELD

W.M. Wood, Jr., Arrested in Lynn

BOSTON, Aug. 15.—William M. Wood, Jr., son of William M. Wood, the Lawrence mill owner, was arrested in Lynn last night charged with operating an automobile without a license. Wood said he arrived in this country three days ago after an extended visit to England. With him was a young Oxford university student whose acquaintance Wood formed while abroad. Wood intends to matriculate at Harvard this fall.

Wood was motoring at a speed of 20 miles an hour through Lewis street, Lynn, when Motorcyle Policeman Roger Dwyer held him up and placed him under arrest for exceeding the speed limit of 15 miles. Wood furnished $50 cash bail at the station and said that he had forgotten to take his license with him.

Under the circumstances, Reserve Policeman Frank Donoghue, who is chauffeur for the Lynn auto ambulance volunteered to motor Wood and his companion to Pride's crossing where the Woods are summering.

SUMMER PLAYGROUNDS

In Lowell are a Big Success This Year

The playgrounds throughout the city are "catching on" better than ever at the present time of the year and a visit to the North common any morning or afternoon would give one a demonstration of the enjoyment that hundreds of children, boys and girls, find there daily. From 9 to 11 and 2 to 4:30, the hours that the supervisors are present a happier or more contented group of children could not be found in the city than those who gather at the North common playgrounds.

The attendance has steadily increased during the present year and the discipline has been excellent. Supervisor Charles Donahue has charge of the grounds and children during the above hours and much credit is due him for the large attendance and excellent behavior of the youngsters who gather there to spend their leisure hours. Although there are hundreds of children playing different games on all parts of the common at one time, everything runs off smoothly and the youngsters under the care of the supervisors are as free from harm or mischief as they would be in their own homes.

This common is also particularly well adapted for the children's play and during the hot hours of the day games are played under the shade trees. The feature game at the North common, which probably is responsible for the extra large attendance is baseball, and the youngsters take great delight in taking part in this game for hours at a time in the hope of acquiring the speed of Ty Cobb or some other baseball star. From early morning until sundown with only a short recess in which to partake of their noon meal the youngsters play the game, and some speedy young baseball teams have been developed on the grounds this year. In the afternoon when the common is going in full force, no less than six or seven games are going on at one time and there is no doubt but what Supervisor Donahue is a busy young man keeping "tabs" on his "students" and seeing that they are not being disturbed by the many spectators who gather on the common to watch the youngsters play their games.

How Thin People Can Put On Flesh

A New Discovery

Thin men and women—that big, hearty, filling dinner you ate last night. What became of all the fat-producing nourishment it contained? You haven't gained in weight one ounce. That food passed from your body like unburned coal through an open grate. The material was there, but your food doesn't work and stick, and the plain truth is you hardly get enough nourishment from your meals to pay for the cost of cooking. This is true of thin folk the world over. Your nutritive organs, your functions of assimilation, are easily out of gear and need reconstruction. Cut out the foolish foods and funny, gaudy diets. Omit the flesh, cream, butter, and fat. Eat the fresh, green, healthy, "stay there" fat should be the net result. Sargol charges your weak, stagnant blood with millions of fresh, new red blood corpuscles—gives the blood the carrying power to deliver every ounce of fat making material in your food to every part of your body. Sargol, too, mixes with your food and prepares it for the blood in easily assimilated form. Thin people gain all the way from 10 to 25 pounds a month while taking Sargol, and the new flesh stays put. Sargol tablets are a scientific combination of six of the best flesh-producing elements known to chemistry. They come 10 tablets to a package, are pleasant, harmless and inexpensive, and all druggists sell them subject to an absolute guarantee of weight increase or money back.

appropriation for the building of a bridge across the Wamesit canal was presented, but action was deferred to a later date.

Pole Location Hearing

The first matter to come before the meeting was a hearing on the petition of the Bay State Street Railway company for pole locations in Bridge street between Fourth and Fifth streets. The mayor explained a hearing was held on a previous date, but inasmuch as some of the abutters were not notified another hearing was scheduled for today.

Supt. Farrington of the railway company was present and he said he represented the company on its petition for pole locations in Bridge street from First to Sixth streets.

Miss Addie B. Merrill appeared as a remonstrant and said one of the pole locations is opposite the window of her property. Com. Cummings suggested that the location of this particular pole be changed to the end of the lot, and the same was agreeable to both parties, and the petition was referred.

A petition for the discontinuance of several gas lights in the city, was referred.

Mrs. John Shea and Dr. G. L. Van Deusen filed claims for damages caused by trees, and the same were referred to the department of claims.

The Bull Moosers

A communication from the secretary of the state committee of the progressive party, Matthew Hale, asking that two inspectors be appointed for each precinct booth, was read and referred to the commissioner of finance.

The Comfort Station

An ordinance pertaining to the general charge of the comfort station and other similar stations which may be established in Lowell, to be in the care of the mayor, was read.

Com. Brown said he was opposed to the ordinance raising the station should be in the care of the commissioner of public property. The ordinance was ordered.

An order for the appropriation of the sum of $2500 for the maintenance of the comfort station in Paige street for the remaining part of the year of 1913, was read.

Com. Brown said he did not believe the city has that sum of money in the treasury.

The mayor informed the council that a certain sum of money is coming to the city sometime next week from various railroad companies. City Solicitor Hennessey said he believed the money would be received by Friday morning.

Mr. Brown said he was not in favor of taking this money from the general treasury, but would favor the transfer of $10,000 from the fire department to the general treasury.

"There is a surplus of $100 in that department," said Mr. Brown, "and I would favor the transfer, and take the $2500 for the comfort station from that amount."

The mayor said the year's report was not in yet, and the money is needed right away.

Inasmuch as Com. Barrett was not present at the meeting, action on the passing of the order was postponed to a later date.

Mayor O'Donnell announced that he had engaged caretakers for the comfort station in Paige street, their salary to be $2 per day. These men will go to work immediately.

E. George filed a claim for an account due him for labor during the years of 1909 and 1911 and asked the claims was thrown down by Commissioner Cummings. The same was referred to the department of claims.

Tribute to Gen. Jones

Commissioner Cummings read a tribute to the late Gen. E. H. Jones, who died yesterday at Binghamton, N. Y., the same being as follows:

Gen. Edward H. Jones died at Binghamton, N. Y., Aug. 14, after a long illness. Gen. Jones at the opening of the Civil war was colonel of the Sixth Mass. regiment. With other officers of that regiment he attended the meeting held here Jan. 21, 1861, to make preparations for responding to the call of President Lincoln. He served as colonel of the Sixth Mass. regiment in the march through Baltimore, April 10, 1861. On arriving in Washington he was greeted and personally thanked by President Lincoln for prompt response to his call for volunteers.

Gen. Jones afterwards served as the chief officer of the 24th Mass. regiment until his resignation.

In recognition of his patriotism and faithful service to the country, we, members of the municipal council, representing the people of Lowell, extend our sympathy to his surviving relatives on his death.

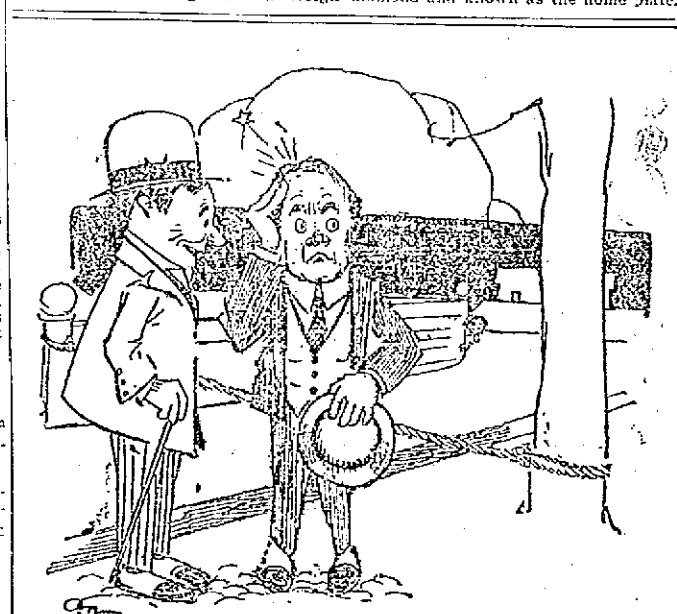

In further recognition we direct the flags on the city hall, Memorial building and Market House building be placed at half-mast Saturday, Aug. 16, 1913. It is voted that a copy of this vote be sent to Gen. Jones' relatives at Binghamton, N. Y.

WARRANTS FOR OFFICERS

Result of Ejection of New York Diners

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—With Mayor Gaynor and Dist. Atty. Whitman at odds over the mayor's 1 o'clock curfew crusade, the magistrate yesterday issued warrants charging assault against Inspector John F. Dwyer and 13 policemen who were concerned in ejecting men and women diners from Thomas Healy's restaurant an hour after midnight yesterday morning.

Mr. Whitman was among those who were thrown out.

Dwyer and five of the policemen were arraigned in court and held for a hearing Saturday morning.

Magistrate Daniel, who issued the warrants and took the place of the prisoners, wrote to the district attorney declaring there had been "usurpation of judicial functions by the police officials" and recommending a grand jury investigation. He described the situation as "acute and dangerous."

Mr. Whitman conferred with the grand jury and it was announced that an inquiry would be begun next week.
